available for purchase on campus along with an exciting, changing inventory of crested clothing and gift items. A full line of nearly new clothing is also available to help complete a young man's wardrobe.

Ladies Guild

"A Knight
To Remember!"

Moms of the Guild, helped by the willing hands of the staff, Association and co-workers, transformed the Great Hall into the interior of a Medieval castle. A knight in armour greeted everyone at the entrance to the kingdom: complete with banners, candlelabras, swords, shields and 200 flickering candles. The festivities, generous feast and fun were enhanced by the merry music of the Generations. April 27th, 1991 will indeed be remembered as a "Knight to Remember".

Last June eleven prefects were announced with Scott Mahaffey leading the pack. George Basu later joined the group in November. With these fine individuals leading the School one could only see a prosperous year ahead.

Shiraz was head of the Service Committee, Jay Yoo was head of the Social Committee, Jeff Metcalfe was Sports Captain and Ian Davidson, along with Rob Hobbs, looked after lower school. The rest joined forces to organize the MacPherson Tournament, the Murder Mystery, Focus, and other various events. The highlight of the year was the public relations dinner with BSS.

Thanks must go to Mr. Foy for his advice throughout the year and we wish next year's prefects all the best.

Geoffrey R. Smith was appointed Headmaster of King's-Edgehill in Nova Scotia in June 1988 and spent two school years there, 1988-89 and 1989-90. Geoff and his wife Ginny and their dog KES enjoyed the Maritimes very much (Geoff is a graduate of Mount Allison University in Sackville, N.B.).

However, when the opportunity arose to move back into life at St. Andrew's - especially with the enormous strides being made in computer education - the Smiths decided that S.A.C. was where they wanted to be!

It almost goes without saying that our busy boarding school needs as many "Geoff Smiths" as it can possibly attract. When he returned in August of 1990, he immediately immersed himself in the computer networking project, and the operation and modernization of the library. In an article for the spring edition of The Andean, Geoff traced the history of computers at S.A.C. since 1971. The only thing he left out of that piece was his own most significant involvement!

Geoff joined St. Andrew's in the fall of 1964, and this year, he completed his 25th year of service to the students, staff, parents and alumni of our school. He is Assistant Headmaster -Student Services, which includes a very active role in the admissions department, university applications, guidance, and the administration of the school in general.

We are very pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Smith back home, and now await the renaming of their dog!

The S.A.C. Association Office was busy in early August starting preparations for the opening of our new facilities on Homecoming Day September 29.

Over five hundred guests attended the official opening by Old Boys John S. Ellis, Class of '32, and Anthony S. Fell, '59.

The Headmaster paid tribute to S.A.C. Foundation chairman David M. Dunlap, '56 who spearheaded the drive for $3.2 million in capital funds to pay for the building. Mr. Bedard also thanked S.A.C.'s Director of Development, Jim Herder '64, who organized the campaign and planned the marketing effort.

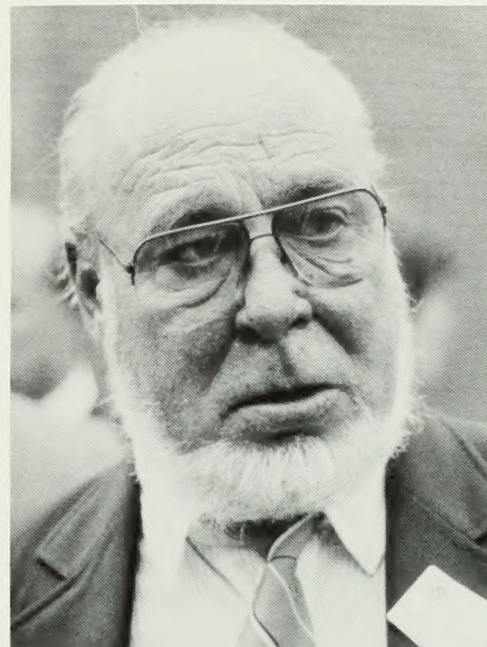

Many Andreans who donated tiles to the new pool attended to see their names engraved in the wall!

Construction included three additional squash courts (added to the three we have had since our last athletic construction in 1979), a new 25 metre swimming pool, change rooms and two extra classrooms and a weight training room. This latest building keeps S.A.C. in the lead amongst Ontario Independent schools!

Mr. Cliff Ilton is presently polishing his golf game and his fishing skills, having terminated a 30 year career at St. Andrew's in March of this year. We pay homage to Cliff and to his wife, Ivy, for attempting to keep all things mechanical in good repair, and this includes our unpredictable steam heating system and the miles of piping that criss-cross our campus.

After a 35 year career in teaching, the last 18 of which were spent at St. Andrew's, Mr. Robert Jones is taking a well-earned retirement. Bob's versatility was of value to the Music, Physical Education and Social Science departments of St. Andrew's College. But it was his involvement in community service that placed him in a special category: Bob introduced many of our students to volunteer work within the community of Aurora and Newmarket. We shall miss his kindness and his enthusiasm, and we wish him a healthy and productive retirement.

Avid readers of The Andean will remember the story of our success with our first foray into the world of video. During the final stages of the renovation of Dunlap Hall, film boxes and canisters dating back to the 1920's were dropped off at the Development Office as a 'final resting place'.

Instead of filing the material, we made a video feature for the Old Boys' dinner. Through the patience and creativity of classroom scenes because we did not have classroom scenes from which to choose! It goes without saying that if we had "Tuddy" or "Pitt" on film, they would have been there.

Partly because the school did not have a "school video" to help in attracting new students, "Quit Ye" was misunderstood by some members of the community who felt it didn't depict S.A.C. as it is in the 1990's.

Time, the board said, to get a little more aggressive in our recruitment process, and what better way than to do a video! In reality, we were behind the eight ball. The campus, which is arguably the most beautiful in Canada, was glorious, but fall was reaching its zenith.

We had to move fast, and at the same time we had to depict St. Andrew's as it really is - that is, a caring environment where boys become men, where lifelong friendships are forged, where some of the real experiences learned outside the classroom are just as important as those learned in the classroom. This video however was to be used primarily to emphasize the 'classroom side' of S.A.C.

We hired the firm 90th Parallel, owned and operated by a wonderfully creative Old Boy, Gordon Henderson '69, with volunteer help from Charlie Edwards, Rob Parker and yours truly.

The result is "A Day at St. Andrew's", twelve minutes of S.A.C. as it is in 1991. The video stresses one-on-one education, small classes taught by professionals with the very best materials, and a computer system like no other. We will enter this film in the C.A.S.E. awards program too. What is C.A.S.E.? It is the Council for Advancement and Support of Education headquartered in Washington D.C. The awards program is open to universities and independent schools across North America. The competition will be stiff, but we feel that our video will be at the very top!

Charlie Edwards '70, and Michael Feheley, Producer, the great voice of Rob Parker '60 and co-ordination by Jim Herder '64, we had the honour of being selected the winner of a C.A.S.E. gold medal for "Quit Ye Like Men, Be Strong".

The film was a history of St. Andrew's, made with existing film. We did not invest in film crews to depict the school as it is today. We did not have many Fast forward to September 29, 1990.

At the Annual meeting of the Board of Governors and the other groups that make up the Andean volunteer communities, the subject arose of increasing competition for new students. Would S.A.C. continue to be the only boys' boarding and day school? After all, T.C.S. had just joined Appleby, Ridley and Lakefield as Co-Ed schools, and U.C.C. is really a day school with a

Laidlaw House

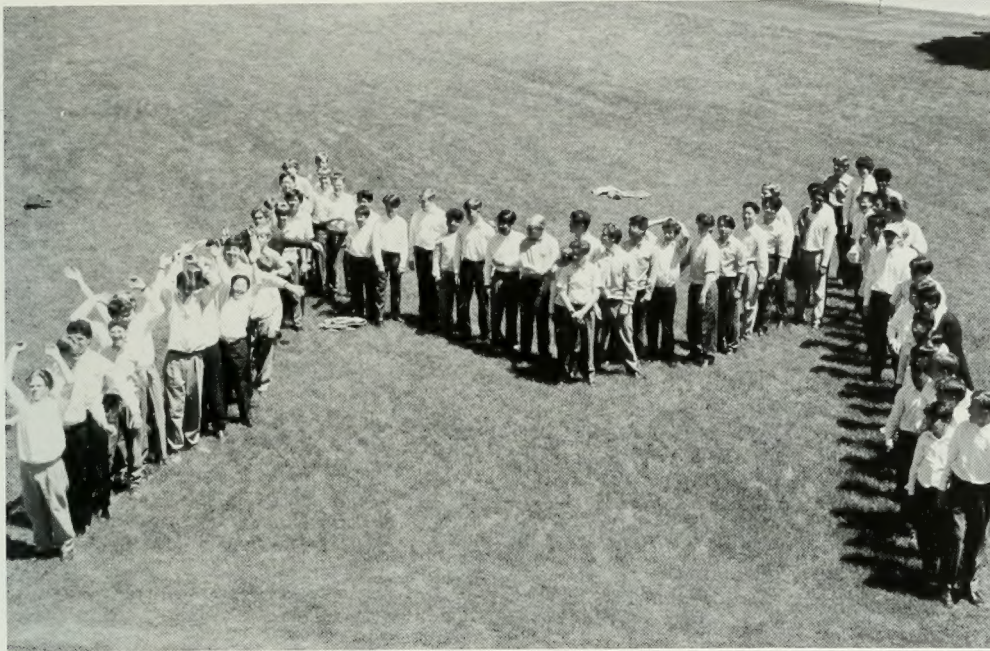

Looking back, Laidlaw enjoyed a good year. There were high points in the year, interspersed with the occasional "dressing down" by Mr. Whitehead. We welcomed many new students to the house and they have "assimilated" very well into the atmosphere at St. Andrew's and Laidlaw House. This year was the first year of having a student council in the house. Led by selected grade 9's, such as Rob Luxemburger, Jeff Lewis, Michael Tzembelicos, Austin Page, Paul Etherington, and Jed Dadson, Laidlaw was very much involved and successful in school activities such as our annual "tug of war" with Mac House (which we won!) and numerous Clan events, such as Track and Field Day.

On behalf of the house, I would like to thank our grade 12 house captains for their help, tenacity, and hard work that put life into our BBQ's, and other house events. I would also like to thank Mr. Whitehead, who, throughout the year, has helped Paul and I to run the house effectively. Last, but not least, I would like to thank the members of the house, for making the year a very memorable one. Laidlaw forever!

Jed Dadson

MacDonald House

Another June has arrived and with it the calm and peacefulness which characterizes the summer months around Macdonald House. Such was not the case during the previous 10 months while the house was "hopping" with the pitter-patter of 84 tiny feet.

The year will be remembered by the progress made by the Grade sevens who were at war with each other for most of the first term. By the end of the year they were able to treat each other in a much more considerate manner. It will also be remembered for the progress made by the other new boys in their quest to determine what was acceptable and undesirable behaviour. Leadership was assumed by many individuals in Mac House. Our Heads of House, Lee Gooding and Leighton Knight, were a class act; they handled a challenging position with care and concern.

The Mac House Council was led by Leo Arhanic with help from Anthony Farr, Mike Benton, Chris O'Connor and Darren McNair. Through their efforts many sleep-in breakfasts and barbeques became a reality. I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to them for their efforts during the past year.

As always, we have a number of award winners to recognize. The Rupert J. Ray Trophy was presented to Bruce Clan as the most distinguished clan in the residence. Congratulations to Leo Arhanic of Bruce, Chris Donnelly of Montrose and Victor To of Wallace for earning the most points for their clan. Our athletic awards went to Darren McNair (best U15 athlete) and Chris Donnelly (best U14 athlete). Our most distinguished awards are The Edith Grant Trophy which was presented to Nick Tamburi and The King Memorial Trophy which was given to Leo Arhanic.

On a final note I would like to thank Mr. Galadja, my House Duty Masters, House Captains and the boys of Macdonald House for a successful year in all respects.

Flavelle House

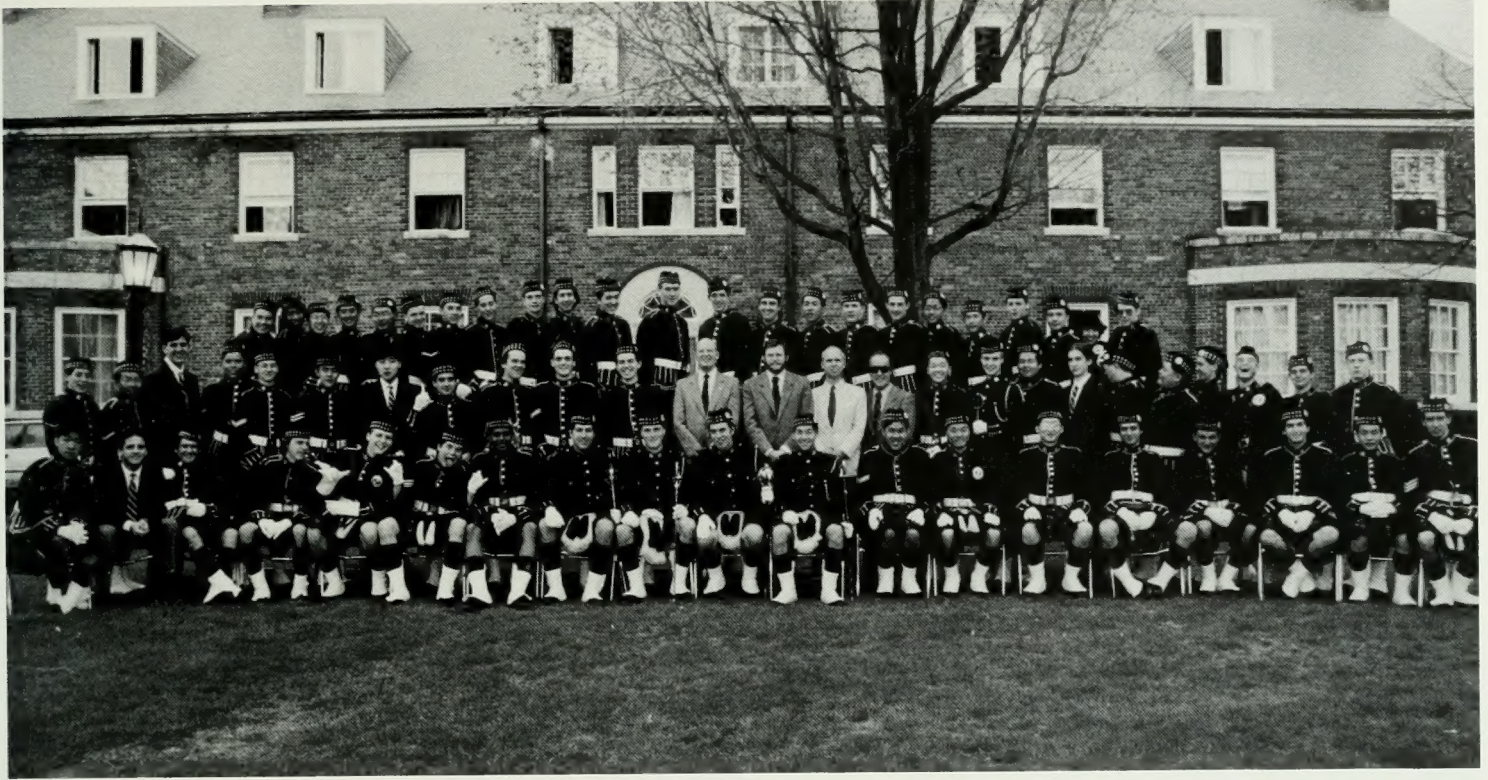

Once again Flavelle has enjoyed another year of challenge, friendships, and accomplishment. For the third year in a row Flavelle sent MacDonald House a Head of House. This person was Lee Gooding. We missed him in the house during his last year at SAC, but know that his contribution was greatly appreciated. Sixteen different nationalities in the house insured that the experience of living in close proximity was always fascinating and often challenging. Differences in cultural background meant frequent misunderstandings, however, the new understanding that often replaced this gave us insights that will surely stand us all in good stead. Special thanks go to Rob Hobbs who did a fine job as Head of House and to Bruce Lopez who lead us once again to a resounding victory at the Track and Field Day. Our gratitude to those now graduating who did much to shape our year. May Andrew, Rob, See-Wai, Jon, Tariq, Cecil, Carl, Bruce, Manabu, James, Mike, Sacha, and Mat not forget the house and return often to visit...(no one can ever replace "Ogre" in his familiar position of elegance).

Memorial House

For the last few years, Memorial House has been in a hallucinatory period trying to find its true colours. When Mr. Raaflaub left, the house was in awe, wondering where a new housemaster would lead us. From Bishop's College, the Perriers brought a revolutionary sense to being housemaster. Mr. & Mrs. Perrier were more than idle figureheads, they were always willing to help and were free to answer questions.

Under a new flag, the house continued to fly strong in inter-school activities. In the cross-country run, the house had full participation. The regular breakfasts graced Monday mornings and Sam Alvaro BBQ's were passed to young and eager hands. The annual house banquet brought the Raaflaubs back with a new family addition and Mr. Smith enlightened the house on the ghosts of Memorial that we often forget. Excursions to the baseball game and the hockey pool became regular features of Memorial House. The graduating class was graced with a farewell steak dinner put on by the Grade 12's in the Perriers' backyard.

The graduating year was a nineteen member contingent. From the Spanish first floor to the mysterious but vocal third floor, it was truly a cross-section of people. These students graduate with not only an academic certificate but also the understanding of people and friendships that will last beyond Prize Day. In the day of global strife, the unity of our citizens was remarkable. From Canada, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Spain, Mexico, West Indies, Korea and Japan, Andreans graduating all leave knowing a little more about others; an experience to learn from and not to be forgotten.

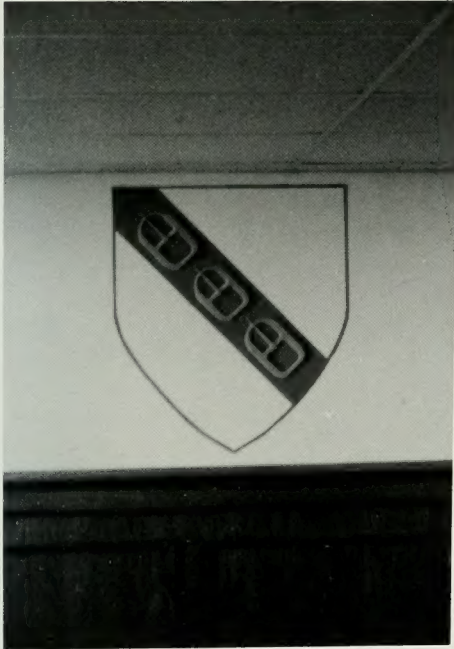

The prospects for next year are looking very promising. The house will be in good hands with a strong Grade 12 class. On behalf of the entire house and the graduating class, I would like to thank Mr. Perrier for being an incredible master who made SAC and Memorial House that much better.

Sifton House

New House

With hopes of one day changing our lackluster name, the members of New House returned in September of 1990 to prove to St. Andrews how worthy they were of some true distinction. Indeed, the year started out well with Randy Tsioros winning his third straight Cross Country run. In fact, with the aid of pre-race house stretches, all fared well in this preliminary school event. Dramatically, Andrew Tzembelicos, Ali Nazer, and Scott Davidson all combined their brain and creative power to whip up a house play worthy of top honours. There is no doubt the staff will remember our production for years to come. In addition to this, New House Common Room was honoured in being selected as the site for the Focus Film Festival. Dramatically, athletically and academically, New House was well represented on all accounts. House activities were attacked with astonishing zeal, be they lunch-time barbecues or an evening Blue Jay game. Many thanks to the volunteers for these events. Of course, our esteemed House Master Mr. Somerville deserves a sincere thank-you for his unfailing efforts and guidance and for his boldness in installing a new carpet. To all members, good luck in your endeavours next year. To those returning, may you soon receive a new house name.

Ramsey House

Ramsey House enjoyed a banner year in all respects. Spirit was high and involvement in all aspects of the St. Andrew's experience was enthusiastic and far-reaching. From Pipes and Drums, debating, Cadets, the Musical, Focus, and Carol Service, to the full array of representative teams, one found Ramsey House members at the forefront of each activity. The House brought home the gold by winning the top Clan award: the prestigious Housser Trophy. Over the years I have come to regard this special house with warmth and pride. Thanks to all who have done their utmost to make my last year with Ramsey a most triumphant one. I will remember our association with pride in the years to come.

Salvatore N. Alvaro (1987-91)

House: Memorial

Nicknames: Sambo, Whalo, Stallion, Dib, Itali, The Punisher, Fridge, Samsoumy, Topo, B-B-Q King, Sammy!

Sayings: "A, Oh!", "Never mind", "Synchronize watches", "Bish, you want to get this!", "Post-time", "Shotgun", "Let's Cruise", "Yo! Kick it!", "I would like to say one thing.", "Cento-ani, pasine, chooch"

Activities: Varsity Football, Social Committee Head, Sports Captain, Major, Track and Field ISAA Champions, "The Stormers", Chicago Bears Fan Club, Coffee Shop Philosophers Club.

This is not the end, but merely the beginning. The last five years at SAC have been some of my best years. But I must thank some people: my mother, for having the understanding and patience to deal with another Calabrese man, my father, for his proverbs and sometimes patience, my oldest friends, I wish you could have been here with me these years, the boys in Memorial, for the spotlight times, and my newest and dearest friends "The Stormers", my door is always open for you. It is you who saw me through this year, the good times and the bad. Gadget, I'll post with you any time. To all the people that have helped me to become what I am today, thank you. There are some people whom I will be indebted to for life; they know who they are.

"You have gold in your hands. Don't turn it into nothing." - F.A. "Better to live one day as a lion than one thousand as a sheep"

Next Year: Guelph, Montreal, Toronto via Ottawa with "The Stormers" on operation university.

Robert Asquith (1984-91)

House: Ramsey

Nicknames: House, Tower, Huge, Dice, Zeke, Squish, J.D., Mr. Expo.

Sayings: "Jack. Straight up.", "Another satisfied customer", "Snapperhead", "Bunko!", "BLUE-STRIPES!", "What's Shakin?", "Adam, you made how much?", "Whatta House!", "Club Robo. Could you imagine a week?"

Only 250 words to sum up my career at SAC is a joke. I would need at least a book. To say that my six year stay here was a very trying experience would be an understatement. So I won't say it. I've had a lot of great times here and a lot of hard times but I am grateful I stuck it out. If it wasn't for my Mom and Dad I would never have made it past grade seven.

I love you both and thank you very much for the opportunity. My future would not be as bright if it wasn't for you and St. Andrew's. I am truly indebted to the school for the numerous second chances the school gave me to succeed. If wasn't for Mr. Bedard, Mr. Stuart, Mr. Treasure and Mr. Arril, I don't know whether I would have made it or not, I owe you a lot. St. Andrew's brought me many friends and many incredible experiences and those that were there for me must be thanked: Dallas, Adam, Sporto, Lil'man, Columbo, Phil, Elyot, Brahm, Mike, Matt, Jeff, Jefaahh, Flames, Lessidog, Bobo, Jers, Zwing, Dalilama, Shish, Lemonche, Ian, Stinky, Brad, Burke, Pubey, Dunfy, Bone, Bunk (and his racks), Erin, Sar, Vegas and Vince (thanx for the job!). And all the others I didn't have room for, I'm sorry. I hope it doesn't all end on Prize Day.

Next year: Florida. All of it!

George A. Basu (1988-91)

House: Sifton

At first, I was weary and afraid when they said clothing was compulsory. Now, I have learned to accept the flaws of every institution. Excuse me while

I divagate. The most pleasing thing I can imagine, is a sparkling clear blue pond with a plethora of exotic fish and a flush pink flamingo, and my ex-girlfriend is drowning. Seriously, I just want to thank some people. Firstly, the Ninja Turtles. Also Shish, Maze, Collies (Andy and Nick), Globes, Metters, Brownie and Al. Good luck to Caz, Lolls, Lemenchie and Smith. Remember Lennoxville, and the semi-Caz? If I missed anyone, relax. Thanks to some teachers for their tutelage. First to El Robo for being so Godlike. Also Freddy Hiltz, for being the most awesome Physics teacher, Goffs Smith, for just being himself, Buub Perrier for his walk, and Mr. Timms for his 'Challenge'. Finally to my family for your countenance. Thanks SAC for everything you've provided me with and for being a place I've grown to love. Later most bodacious dudes, and party on...naked.

James A. Biggar (1990-91)

Sayings: "Come on guys, leave Bernie alone!", "Okay 2 on 1, and there's no backhackers"

Activities: First Hockey, First Houseleague, First Letter-Writing.

I entered St. Andrews for my final year with great hopes of both academic and hockey success. Both of these did not turn out as anticipated. On the bright side though, I had an opportunity to meet a lot of great guys, to feel the pride and honour it means to be an Andrean and to experience a new way of life. I will never forget any of this, since it has had such a profound impact on me. I'd like to thank all the guys who made my year the way I'd want to remember it. We had a lot of good times. I don't want to name names. You know who you are. Thanks go to Mr. Robinson who taught us responsibility and respect for each other. Sifton House was by far the best house and proves a Robonian code works. Last, but not least, thank you Mom and Dad for all your support and patience in my times of need. I couldn't have done it without you.

James A. Bishop (1990-91)

House: Sifton

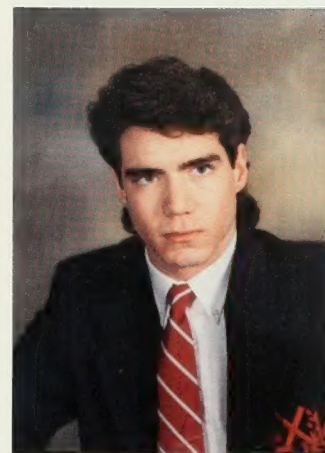

Nicknames: Bish, Dipper, Smoker.

Sayings: "Bassam have you seen my cellular?", "Searles you're such a hick!", "At least Ridley had chicks!"

Activities: House Plays (The Smoker in 'Naked Man') (Acting Merit Award).

When you're at SAC for one year, you realize how much you miss girls. Seriously though, I met a lot of great guys here, and I'd just like to wish them the best of luck in their futures. To all the great teachers, keep on truckin'. Finally, thanks to George and Al, the two greatest guys in the school by far.

Next Year: See you at Carleton.

Geoffrey P. Browne (1988-91)

House: Ramsey

Nicknames: Brownie, Spacecat, Pal-O-Mine, Flames, Illiterate.

Sayings: "I swear to Magnum.", "I loathe you!", "You're a good man.", "Hugo, you're a waste of flesh."

Activities: Warming 1st Football, U13 Basketball Coach, Steeplechase Gang, Photographer, Hamlet, Romeo & Juliet, Focus Videos "Stuffing" and "Naked Man", Team COOVER.

I have learned many things these past three years at SAC. I have learned sportsmanship on the field. I have learned acting on the stage, and most importantly I have learned what it means to be a true Andrian. "The cross hath won the field." Thanks To Mom and Dad for giving me the opportunity to go to this fine establishment. Yet a simple thanks is not enough for the memories I have gained (ie. tripping to Caley and meeting Dr. D, MC Squirrel, Hose Antonio, Mike, John Garigan, and the rest of the Daddy O's, Team COOVER road tripping, hating Metcalfe, being useless with Globbs, Kilcoo, and 5 pins). To all my friends for seeing me through my times of illiteracy, me thanks you. Je me souviens, I remember!

Next Year: Breaking on through to the other side.

Andrew P. Bulas (1986-91)

Sayings: "I hate you", "You have any lipper?", "I didn't say it", "Keep me on, Juice", "I'll play defence", "Browne, we are completely useless", "Hugo, you are the ugliest person alive", "I am a problem child"

Activities: 1st B-Ball(3A,captain), 1st Football(1 game), Naked Man play, ball tag with George, Assistant Head of House (sometimes), Chapel Fanatic/Frequent Churchgoer, TEAM COOVER '90, UA6(beatng stick)

Although not every aspect of S.A.C. was the most ripping experience, my five years here have been very memorable. There are two teachers that have helped me a great deal since I've been here; Robo, who has always had my best interest in mind, and will continually remain godlike, and Mr. Josselyn, who developed me in ways that I can't thank him enough; both as a player, and as a person. I'll never forget how you have influenced me. Thanks also to Wags, George, Shish Bighead, and Spacecat; who I hope will aspire to be more than an illiterate garbageman. Best of luck next year to T.S. and C.M. Finally, I'd like to thank Walt and Myrtille who have given me this great opportunity, and paid those astronomical bills; I will always be grateful. I'd love to go out with a touch of class, but the hell with it. Thanks to everybody for the great experience.

David A. Burt (1985-91)

House: Sifton

Nicknames: Davey, Ernie (Thanks Robo), Eugene, Burp, Davu, Hick.

Sayings: "It's T-FAB!", "Lumphead, you smell", "Does Robo have a class now?", "Pheeelp!", "Hey Burt, where's Ernie?" is sooo original", "This is psycho", "Walk much?", "Ah, but they have to catch us first", "Of course the Sault is not a hick town", "Party in Schomberg Friday night, Tom?"

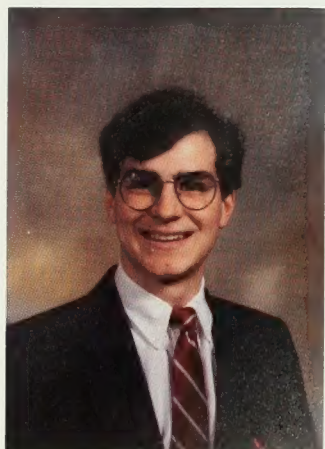

Activities: II Hockey, U16 Cricket, Golfing with Turkey, Jr. Tennis, U14 Cricket (2a) MVP, U13 Basketball, Boston Trip, New York trip, 4am trips to Mr. Donut with Sporto, Gr.9 Club de Weekenders (8 weeks), waking up Bob with bottle rockets, stage crew with Lumphead (2a), no rank in Cadets (6a), late night Zep-fests wiith Sporto, Bob & Doug fests with Gooner.

Six years at S.A.C. and at last I'm free! Thanks so much to my loving parents for all their guidance and support that made times here a lot easier. Special thanks to my housemaster, Mr. Robinson, who has been a good friend to me and to my tutor, Mr. Josselyn, for putting up with my mother. Of course, my years at S.A.C. would not have been worthwhile without the friends that I have made here and who I will always remember.

Sayings: "Nice life Randy!", "Your Shelby sucks Steve", "Shut up Ben!"

Activities: Jr/Sr Squash, President of SAC Automobile Appreciation Club (Ha!).

The past five years at SAC have been the best of my life so far. I can honestly say that I have never laughed more than I do among my friends at SAC. Guys like Ali Nazer, Ryan Windler, and George Basu are funnier than any stand up comic I have ever seen.

It's not really what they say, but how they say it. Phrases such as "Totally Naked!" and "You broke it! I don't know you." wouldn't have been nearly as funny had someone else said it. They successfully made even the most boring of classes lively. Many thanks also go to Ben, Steve, Randy, Alex, and Sean who have made my decision to go to SAC all worthwhile. I guess what I'm trying to say is that it is not the education, facilities and reputation (all of which this school has) that makes a school great, but rather the people in it; and this school is probably the best you could ever get in that respect. Of course I cannot forget to thank my parents who have made it possible for me to go here, so thanks to them.

Five years of SAC, and finally we are out of here.

As A. Stevenson said "There are no gains without pains." So let's just say there have been more than a handful. St. Andrew's was more than an experience. After leaving here, I feel that I have grown into a better person. I could have never gone as far as I did without my parents, and for their help I am extremely grateful.

My God Bones! Has it been that long? After 7 years (220752000 seconds) at SAC, it's hard to imagine that my high school career is almost over and that soon a new chapter in my life will be opened. During those years there have been numerous activities which have greatly affected my character such as cadets and the Carol Service. SAC has molded me from the kid into the mature adult, and I feel that the teachers and the staff at the school have given me more than the required tools to ensure my success in the upcoming years. I must give my thanks to all the teachers at SAC, but more importantly, I thank my parents who were loving enough to spend the astronomically high bills (of Canadian Deficit proportions) and for helping me through those choppy years of adolescence. My stay at SAC has been most enlightening and to paraphrase a well known political figure: "It's been the mother of all experiences."

Next Year: Lecturing about life, the universe, tribbles, and hortas at the U of Vulcan, or if all else fails, economics at U of T, or film studies at York.

Well my time at S.A.C. has come to an end and it is time to move on and meet new and different challenges, which no doubt lie ahead. The S.A.C. experience has been beneficial. Thanks for allowing me the opportunity to attend St. Andrew's. Your sacrifices were well worth it. I would like to give thanks to all my teachers and a special thanks to Mr. Robinson (Robo) for his help, understanding, guidance and motivation which helped make my stay at S.A.C. more pleasurable and worthwhile. Finally to all my friends I have made during my stay, thanks for your help and support. Respect to the Islanders, SSC, RC(K2), CD(turban), JH(fat boy), SM, BS, AA (Delion), MJ, JD(buster), BL, Lg(brillo), Je(bow cat), AC and CD. Later S.A.C. I gone! Zeen! Activities: Skiing (Blue Mt., Loretto Ski resort), Special member of House League, Travel: New York, Montreal, Jamaica

I thank my parents for giving me the opportunity of coming to this school. I have learned a lot of English. This will help me in the future. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Perrier, Mr. Paolini, and Mr. Halstead. I am also thankful to the people who have made staying in a foreign country a lot easier; especially the Carribean boys of Trinidad and Tobago. Of course, thanks to my roommate Fede Garcia. See you SAC! Next year: University of Madrid. In the future: "I hope my sons could come here."

Helping out with Focus. President of Let's See How Many Doodles Will Fit in a Math Notebook Club. Sleeping in the Common Room. Common Room Olympics Observer. Wilkie's Warriors 1987.

I can't say that St. Andrews has helped me or made me a better person; I don't know if it has. Ask me again in about thirty years, when I've had time to think about it. I can say that SAC has been a good place to be for seven years. I have been taught to think effectively, had the chance to better myself physically, and, most importantly, gained tolerance, respect, and friendship. The masters at SAC are helpful and supportive. My thanks to Mr. Paolini for his help with both my style and approach to art, to Mr. Robinson for telling me to apply myself for four years, to Mr. Harrison, Grenier and Sommerville. Thanks also to Mr. and Mrs. Clements. The musical was the most fun I've had in seven years at SAC. My thanks also to my friends, for making school bearable.

(B&B), Quebec, "Ragged Glory", etc.....

In three short years St. Andrews has left a mark that will last a lifetime. In grade eleven, I realized SAC was a field of opportunity. The more time and effort invested, the richer the yield. To all the friendships made, you are what made the difference and is what I'll remember most. Keep in touch. To the caring masters and administration, who more than once, helped me along the way-thanks. To my family - I love you. To my brer, Scott, you'll always be a "little puke". Mum & Dad, thanks for the incredible experience and all you sacrificed. I owe you dearly.

Activities: II Football, Fencing, After Study basketball team, Corridor Cricket Club, Vice President of the West Indians Away From Home Council, I Dominoes (Captain).

Friends will come and friends will go, but the memories will stay forever. This very old saying stands for SAC, as it is friends that have made my years at SAC so bearable and exciting at times. Without my friends, I don't know how I would have survived here. To the posse: AC, LG, LK, SP, JD, MJ, AA, CD, SSC, JH, RC, BC, BS, BL. To the Canadian Crew: JB, AS, MN, AB, MP, BG, JM - respect due. In retrospect, SAC has taught me more than what's in the textbooks. I have learnt to be responsible and to be independent. These, among other things, all have gone into shaping and building my character. This makes me thankful to my parents, especially my mother, to whom I am grateful for giving me such a quality education. It won't be wasted. Also I'd like to thank Mr. Perrier for being a good friend, teacher and housemaster.

To SAC, I Gone Clear.

If there was one thing I have to be thankful for this year, it was becoming closer to the man I respect most ... my father. Even though we didn't spend a lot of time together through my childhood due to his traveling and dedicated working hours, he always made an effort to be there when I needed him. I have always found it hard to talk to him and tell him how proud I am to be his son, but I'll leave these four words: I love you, Dad. This one's for you...

you're a shooting star..."

When I first walked up the winding road to St. Andrew's College I was hesitant and somewhat apprehensive. However, it has been a positive year filled with new and worthwhile experiences. I have been grateful to those who have tried to open many new doors for me. My thanks to new friends I have made and to my teachers. A special thanks are in order to my parents who provided this opportunity and to my housemaster. St. Andrew's has been a unique experience. It is one that I will remember fondly in the years to come.

When given the opportunity to attend SAC in grade eleven, I had mixed feelings. I first turned it down, but at the last minute decided to chance it. Coming here took a while to adjust to. I found SAC a challenging experience. As my time at SAC draws to a close I am beginning to realize what this school has really done for me. SAC has prepared me academically far better than any other school could have. For this I would like to thank all my teachers; especially Mr. Myrans, Mr. Timms, and Mr. Ray. This institution has also offered me the opportunity to find my athletic potential. The most important aspect of SAC is not the athletics or even the academics but the chance to live in a close community and the friendships created because of it. To my close friends BL, RF, MJ, JA & others good luck next year wherever you are. To Mr. Foy my House Master and Robo my tutor thank you for all your support through the years. Finally, I would like to thank my parents for giving me this wonderful opportunity.

Well it's almost over. I've thought about it and decided; my parents did make the right choice. So much has happened since I walked through the doors of Mac House so many years ago. This school has had a great influence on my life, and I hope for the better. Through St. Andrews I have met a great many friends. To Shiraz, my roomy for so many years, thanks for putting up with me. Tarek, you've been a great friend all along. To the rest (GB BW MU BM and ID) much thanks. Thanks to the teachers that have helped to shape me: Mr. Smith and Mr. Swan. Mr. Ray, you've been a great tutor. A special thanks to Mr. Foy a super housemaster and a great friend. I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Whalley for giving me a home away from home. Mart, you've been a great sister and an even better friend. My thanks for always being there and for your helpful advice. After spending one third of your life in some interest you become accustomed to it, and are reluctant to change. I have devoted six years of my life to this institution and although I have given much, I have received more. My life at SAC has ended. Now, behind me stand years of hard work and a school unlike any other. Thanks must go to all my masters who have molded me from a small, shy grade eight boy to what I am today. To all my friends: Brocklee, Beaker, The Soup Gang, DZ, Erronius, all the J's, A's, and M's at NHS and of course sis, thanks for being there and helping me keep my sanity. Finally to the two people I owe greatest thanks to: Mom and Dad. I know I have been hard to live with sometimes - through numerous injuries and math tests, but you have never faltered. Thanks. Next year will bring new people, and new ideas, but I shall never forget my past nor my roots at SAC.

Activities: Senior Golf Team, U16 Soccer (ISAA champs), II Soccer, U15 Basketball (MVP), U16 Basketball, II Basketball, U15 Rugby (ISAA champs), House Capt., Cadet Srg., weekly Friday night ritual, elite member of Double Wenk and Double Perrier.

My years here at SAC have finally come to an end and I have learned many important lessons. There are so many people to thank over the years. Firstly, I would like to thank my parents for sacrificing so much and giving me the opportunity to come to this great institution. Next, thanks to all the staff who went out of their way to make my stay so enjoyable; Mr. Hiltz for being my tutor and bringing out the best in me academically, Mr. Arril for all his help in University applications and Mr. Hanson for being a great coach and choosing me as a house captain. Most importantly, I would like to thank you, the student body for making this a great experience. It is true that SAC is an excellent academic school but I feel there is far more to it than just what you learn inside the classroom. To me, SAC is jumping onto the ice and screaming for joy at the Mac Tourny, playing cards with teammates on long bus rides, sharing a practical joke with your friends. These are the little things that make SAC such a great school.

Sayings: "I hate you", "Killer!", "Lets pack a lipper", "Browne is an idiot", "I know Bulas", "Beauty", "I am a problem child", "Je me souviens."

Activities: 1st Football, 2nd Basketball (3a), Friend #1 in Scouler's drama productions, TEAM COOVER, Caly-Around the world on weekends, UA6 beating stick, Algonki, Barklay's Cottage and reunions, Quebec City, The Cassino.

There are plenty of good things about SAC ;there are also a few bad things. SAC gives you benefits you can't get anywhere else. For this much I'd like to thank the school. The things I will remember best are the times I had outside of the classroom. I will always be a member of TEAM COOVER, our roving band of road trippers. The trip to California, (without anyone knowing until it was too late), was one of the best times of the past five years and probably my life. Thanks John, Mike, Dr Dope, MC squirrel, and Hose Antonio. The one year in Mac house when we were constantly beaten by Housecaptains and each other was painful but one of the best memories I have of the school. In 40 years I'll be glad I was a student at SAC. St. Andrew's gives you advantages you can get nowhere else. Its a place you're not always sure you want to be but usually end up glad you're there. For this I thank the school for what it has done and I thank my parents for sending me here.

Writing the grad comments has brought my stay at St. Andrews into retrospect. It's hard to believe that it's been already four years and I am now the last of the Kee brothers to graduate. It has not been the greatest four years of my life but definitely the most useful. I have learned to cope with many situations that I am sure will be of use to me in future. I thank my parents and grandparents for giving me the opportunity to attend SAC, not for just the education but also for the friends that I have made. I've been fortunate enough to have great roommates for the years at SAC and I thank them all for being there when I needed them. In fear of forgetting someone I will not mention any names, but they are the people that really made SAC a bearable place. Having fast tracked I will be leaving many of my friends at SAC this year and I wish the best for them next year. Now my stay at SAC is over I can just hope that I will get as much from university as I did from here.

Through thick and thin, my friends here at SAC have made it fun and easy. Without them, my stay could not have been as exceptional as it was. Thanks goes to all my teachers for their time and efforts in and outside of the classroom. To all my coaches, thanks for your encouragement and dedication to the teams. Being away from home has made me realize how lucky I am to have a close loving family. Zia, Rashid and Geraint, thank you for everything you've done for me, for helping me and guiding me. Just knowing you are there has made every thing much easier and secure. I love you all. Mom, Dad, thank you for giving me this opportunity. It is something I will always be thankful for and never regret. I love you, and thank you. To my friends, thanks for the experiences and the memories. Mike and Darren, have fun next year and take care. Bruce, Lessif, Polish, Zwing, Rob, Shish, Naked, Paul, Markus and Metcalfe, all the best next year. Ali and Rory, thanks for being there for me and for all the good times. Your friendships are unequalled. Keep practicing for the old boys game, you'll have a lot more competition! Take care, I'll keep in touch.

Activities: 1st Aerial Climbing, Senior Cross Country, Track and field.

As I look back at my two years at S.A.C. I must acknowledge that they probably have been two of the most crucial years in my life. The school has constantly called upon me to do more and I believe I have met these challenges with an open mind, many times coming out on top. Personally I believe that I have grown as a person, but it is for those around me to judge. To those persons that I have crossed paths with at S.A.C. I wish you all the best in life and I hope you do the same for me. I would most importantly like to thank my parents, who have worked hard and see me have an excellent education and I hope I have made them proud.

Activities: Rifle Shooting (Second aiming for First); House League, Major Subjects Tutor (For all grades), short-sighted dart club chairman

Only towards the end of this academic year, I realized that secondary school life is in fact the golden period of my youth. It is the time when people care about you, giving you the best and hoping you to become the best. I find it absurd if anyone doesn't appreciate the enormous effort that is supported by both our teachers and family. Recalling my year in St. Andrew's, teachers and tutors have always been excellent giving me the knowledge and wisdom. I wish to thank them for that. Also I wish to give my warmest thanks to 'Mammy', 'Daddy' and 'Ian' for their dependable and unfailing support. Although this has been the first as well as the last year at S.A.C., during this short period of time, it has given me a sense of belonging. It may come from the peaceful environment of the campus, or from the profound teachers, understanding friends, my private room or even the chocolate milk in the dining hall! Going to university is the start of a new page, but my life in St. Andrew's is really unforgettable. It will always be my pride to call St. Andrew's my home.

"I love Flavelle!" I guess all those who got here the first year are familiar with this saying. Some might be forced to say it, others might just think it was funny, but I felt proud to say it. My special thanks must go to Mr. Foy who has done a brilliant job as a housemaster, who really cares about every individual in the house. My two years at S.A.C. seem to be a long time to me, and what I learned from here are not just academics, but how to deal with others. I will never forget the valuable friendships I made here, and I wish the best of luck to all those who I know. Thanks again to all the teachers, I really appreciate the way they teach here. Finally, my parents should deserve the last line. Thank you both so much for everything.

Well I guess now that my three years at S.A.C. are finally coming to an end, I can look back and see that it was worth it. I never thought I'd hear myself say that, but it's true. Now that I'm safely on my way, I can look back and see that the opportunities offered and the knowledge gained out-weigh all the bad times. Thanks to Mom and Dad for all the encouragement to stick this place out, and the sacrifices you made to send me here, I won't forget them. Thanks to Mark and Heidi for the support too. To those who were real friends, MJ, JD, JA, AH, TK, AK, RF... the rest from the rock, Trini posse, Bajan posse, if there's one thing that really got worked, it was our imagination; sitting back in study every night trying to ourselves at home on the beach. Activities: Very few, but including House League and other appointments.

The two long years I spent at St. Andrew's College had definitely changed me; for the better or for the worse, the time had altered my approach to life. The list of people who have cared for me is too long to be mentioned in full detail, but I take this opportunity to thank everyone of them. But most of all I must thank my mother, sister and father for all their effort they poured into the assurance of my well being. I thank my closest friends and relatives for being in my life to sustain the hope of joy. And F.H.L. thank you for all your encouragement and assistance, I well always be grateful for your deeds. I must send along both my gratitude and apologies to every member of the S.A.C. staff for their patience. Everything else that happened has engraved its significance in my memory solidly and need not be commented upon.

Over the past four years I've made and lost some friends, fallen in love, and built up a decent-sized CD collection. S.A.C. itself is a great school with truly dedicated teachers. During my stay I've learned some important lessons:

- 1) Hey, anyone can be Head Prefect
- 2) Don't keep Amstel in your fridge
- 3) Who says you have to go to class to be a scholar?

In leaving, I hope I've left a tiny mark on a school which has had a huge influence on me. Thanx to all those who have gone on before and to all those who part with me. George and Shish, you'll always be lightweights. Mom and Dad, thanks for all of your sacrifices. Thanks to all three of my housemasters (the white Jetta is mine). I would also like to thank Mr. Timms, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Bedard for taking a chance on me; I hope I've shown that UCC doesn't know how to judge people. Special thanks to The Ritchies for producing such a fine daughter. So long SAC.

When you look back at SAC it's not the tests or the academic assemblies that you remember, but the embarrassing moments, the laughs, the all-night term project that's crept up on you, the McPherson Tourny, the House events and the torture of getting up for chapel. Thanks to my four housemasters for seeing the real me and being great friends as well. When I first entered Mac House in grade nine the surroundings were so new and large, the rules were strict, and all the people seemed just as nervous as myself. While progressing through the test of time, this school has molded and shaped me into the person I now am. It's not until you meet someone from outside the school that you really appreciate how much SAC has to offer. I have my friends to thank for their influence (good or bad). Thanks to my family for always being home on the weekends ("Look ma' no more laundry!"). I don't know why either of you were ever worried. A big thanks to Dee Dee and C.F. for always being there.

Damn - what a start! Life is looking good so far. The first few years at SAC were tough but things definitely got better. I grew up here, I was molded here, and I made my tools of life here - knowledge, confidence, and dedication. Wherever life's gust lands me, I'll always remember. Many thanks to my boys at home, Mom, Dad and the twins. Thanks to all those who put up with me - you all helped make me. Remember when life's path is steep to keep your mind even. It looks like all the worrying got me through; it was worth it though. I now know that it was hard work; that too was worth it. The benefits are endless. Thank you Mom for listening relentlessly to those worries, you always managed to straighten things out. Of course, thank you Dad for making it all possible. Finally, thank you Mr. Somerville for guidance. There's no where to go but out the door now. I am glad that the door is wide open.

Five years of SAC, and no regrets. I've experienced everything this school has to offer. From the playing fields, to the labs, to boarding life, it's been more than an education. Now I'm ready for life. Thanks to Mom and Dad, for giving me this opportunity. You won't regret it. To Mr. Hiltz, for putting me on the right path. To my coaches, for letting me give my all. To the Chisholms, for all those Lacy Oats over the years. To the boys of 1st hockey for all the rubber...long live the kybo! To Chiz and Pick, get a real job. To Spacecat, for all the girl talk. To Ali for getting me through double Perrier. To the Oaf, Ghost, Shish, Globbs, Rugby, and the rest.

St. Andrew's has given me the four best and most significant years of my life. I have experienced a lot of things in the different culture that I'll never forget.

I would like to thank all the people that have helped me through the tough time. Special thanks to: Mr. Foy, for being a great housemaster; Mr. Hiltz and Mr. Scoular for being kind to enlighten me; Mrs. Hiltz, for helping and developing my English; and Mr. Kimmerer and Mr. Dunford, for understanding me on and off the ice. The time I was on the ice was the happiest time at SAC. Most importantly, I would like to thank my parents for giving me the opportunity to attend SAC, a debt I can never repay. Also thanks to those who were there when I needed them, (JL, MN, OP, LG, and the whole hockey team) and good luck next year to Shin & 1st Hockey.

As I leave St. Andrew's, I have many memories: the bus trips, food, rules, and laughter that never stopped. At SAC, I learned how to achieve, how to really mess things up, and how to make things happen. I was opened up to things I never thought I'd do, and given the tools and opportunities to exceed beyond my limits. Thanks to my loving parents who made more than their share of sacrifices; also to Mr. Foy and Mr. Smith for their guidance, to Mr. Robinson for his encouragement. Thanks to Dooby, Mr. Giel, Day, Perrier, and Treasure for taking the time to show me the way, and to Jimi and Neil for their strummin' on late study nights. So it goes.

I used to wonder how eighty-five thousand dollars could have been spent better, like on a Porche. I eat my words today. The opportunities SAC has given me and the education it has provided are unsurpassable. Thanks to some notable people: Ward, JC, Ron, Bob P., Aubrey and Freddy (after Prize Day I'm buying you a beer). Special thanks to Robo for your concern of my well being and Geoff for not ignoring me in the hall. However, friendship is the best thing SAC offers. Friends, we rocked, and we shall rock for many years to come. Thanks Colly, Golbs, Wags, Brownie, Bighead, Ian, Metcalfes, Ali, Chiz, all my roomates (hi Rob) and anyone else I missed. Nick, Scott and George, you guys rule. Together dead dancing will never sleep. The biggest thanks must go to my parents and sister for being there and making SAC possible. I am not going to compare SAC to a long winding road because that would be pathetic. Instead, I am going to acknowledge what really makes this school not the driveway but the people. Where else could I have met a naked man, a Dane with the most ice-like haircut this side of Miami, a hockey player whose math mark was inversely proportional to the duration of the length of the season, a guy with really, really, REALLY strange dreams, many friendly and fun-loving greeks, and numerous others. I'd also like to thank all my teachers and counsellors, and my family for seeing me through. Lastly, thanks need to be given to all the white boys that have been my friends (as well as George, Shish and Woo too). Keep on fulminating!

First and foremost, I must thank my parents for putting up with me and not kicking me out of the house. I was undeserving of your patience and most certainly unworthy of a second chance (or 3rd, or 4th.. but who's counting). I don't always agree with your methods but I love you anyway. On that note, I should also forward thanks to Mr. Bedard for allowing me back into the fold after a disastrous sabbatical year (academically) at Williams High School. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. C for putting up with me. Thanks also to Waldo for being so kind and understanding. To Mr. Robo, I am forever in your debt. As my coach, confidante, spiritual/political guide, I have somehow managed to make it through this institution relatively unscathed; a feat I most certainly would not have achieved without your guidance. Thank you and best of luck in your future endeavours. Thanks, finally to super-soup and all my friends for being my asylum (both politically and emotionally)

Although two years of my life have been based in Aurora, I feel that a greater part has come from outside this tiny town, without which, I wouldn't have survived. A special "Cheers" goes out to Dave, who lead me through my first year as an Andrean. Sacha, thanks for putting up with my "Empire". Lee, did Barbados happen?", "Leighen, didn't touch a thing, sir." With the crew in Montreal, many bridges were crossed that enabled me to make it through the days that followed back at SAC. Countless nights in the B1 Lodge, raving with the Bajuns and jamming under the Chapel and Dining Hall helped close the gap between the first and last day of the terms. But then again, the Chapel duties and first period classes lengthened the term. I bid "adieu" to my colleagues reminding them to look forward to University for reasons other than education. To the parentfolk, I extend my deepest gratitude, and only wish that I could truly express how much of a valuable experience this has been.

Well, I was in II Soccer and was the best player! Unfortunately, the coach didn't think so! I then went to houseleague with my good friend 'Hallster' and my shoe cleaner, Gonzo. House league was great. You could feel the fresh air in your hair, smell the flowers, and hear the sweet voices of Mac House kids. Thanks SAC for all my experiences.

It was a gut feeling that brought me across the Atlantic to conclude my boarding school life. Even though I have reminisced about my days in England I have had an enjoyable and very interesting two years at St. Andrew's. I would like to thank my family for beginning the process and for their many, many years of support. Thank you for the wonderful opportunity you have provided for me. I would also like to thank the friends I have made (you know who you are) for some great laughs; all the best and keep in touch. "Condemn not then. The following is not about school it is about life: Sitting in a crowded hall;

I cannot move, I cannot crawl.

I'm surrounded in the dismal place

By moping spirits with their empty faces.
"When Sir Irving was your age, my son,
He was able to make a turbine run.
And when he was your age, Sir Gent,
He was no less than president."
Insolence! You must do as you're told
If you're ever to grow old.
They don't know me.
I'm a thinker, an inventor,
A dreamer.
They put a frown on their face
As they try to put me in my place,
But I feel my power grow
Simultaneous with the knowledge I know.
I hide behind a monotonous smile;
My active brain dreaming all the while. - Sean Ralph

At this turning point in my life I can only say thank you to those who have cared. It is due to you that I have achieved the goals I set for myself. A special thanks to my parents to whom I owe it all. Thank you also to Mr. Josselyn and Mr. Robinson who helped more than they will ever know. To describe my experiences at SAC would be impossible in these few lines but I can say that they will always be remembered as those that shaped my life.

Sun set and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,

When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew me out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Words cannot express the appreciation and gratitude I owe my parents, thanks Mum and Dad for sacrificing so much. Love you both. Thanks to Jonesy, Blair, Brock, Ben, Chris, Ian, Mike and innumerable others for making SAC an interesting experience that will last my lifetime. I hope the friendships made will last the years ahead. Thanks to Mr. Robo for being there-with a big stick when necessary (all too often). Mr. Treasure and Mr. Swan for the unknown contributions you've made to my maturity. To everyone else thanks! I have learned many things at SAC; livestock breeding a specialty—I am confident about becoming a shepherd. But self-respect, sincerity, maturity, honesty and a consideration for others are a few of the more important. That is why SAC is what it is. All the other nonsense that happens, cannot mire the underlying lessons that are taught here. I believe that after six years these lessons are finally being learned.

My first and last year at SAC has come to an end and it is time to move on, but I am taking with me the everlasting memories of a year's worth of experiences. One regret in my life is that I did not come to SAC much earlier. There are a lot of opportunities available at SAC and one year was not enough to take full advantage of them. It has been a great challenge at SAC academically, spiritually, and physically, and my advice to all is to get involved early and to make the best use of all opportunities offered and deny yourself nothing in life. At first I didn't like SAC and longed to get back to my old roots of T.N.T, but later, I began to appreciate SAC. I would like to give special thanks to my friends that have endured my company: AA,CD,BC,RC,JH,MJ,JD,BS,GC,SM,SR,AC,JE, and especially my parents and Mr. Robo for making my life memorable. Special thanks to the devoted staff, Mr. Kinney and Mr. Walden.

My four years at S.A.C. have taught me many valuable lessons, and equally, they have brought me many great friendships. I leave here with confidence, knowing that I will be successful in my upcoming life. Good luck to all my friends in Grade 12; you know who you are. Thanks to all my teachers, especially Mr. Smith, for helping me through the year. Most of all, thanks to my father and mother for making the sacrifices for this education.

Activities: President of Latip's Touci Service, Member of the "We don't like Canada Committee", member of BWIA frequent flyers program.

This year at SAC has proven to be quite memorable and although I started late I was able to make quite a few good friends. Those friends made the year quite enjoyable and I would like to thank them. Thanks to Cookie, Dickson, Sam Chee, Clarke, Aleong, Fat Boy, all the islanders and the rest. I am grateful to my parents, Wayne and my sisters for giving me the opportunity and having faith in me when I did not. To everyone else in the school, I thank you for giving me insight into life (Robo, Waldo especially). I will be entering the big bad world soon and I plan to make it a better place for us all. Rejoice because Latip is on the prowl. To everybody at SAC. I blow this joint, LATER. Come in, Florida.

St Andrew's College is an excellent institution whereby a student can achieve his ultimate potential and goals. At St. Andrews you only get out what you put in. There is no guarantee of success without effort. By expecting to get out more than you put in you are only fooling yourself. This theory applies for any walk of life and any obstacle one may encounter. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends (The islanders, AC, JB, AB, JE, JM, BG, and all the Siftonites) for helping me through academic hardships and for partying with me during the good times. Finally I would like to thank my parents for the opportunity of attending St. Andrews, and my sister for being a friend.

It seems like only yesterday I was driven up the winding driveway, unsure of myself and my capabilities. However, I will leave in June, confident and prepared for whatever life throws my way. Four years, not the longest of stays at SAC, but long enough to have gained valued friendships and lasting memories. St. Andrews has taught me many things, among those tradition, pride, and moral values that I will carry with me for the rest of my life. S.A.C. is like one big family, learning and growing together, but at the same time encouraging your individualism. Every teacher I have had, over the years, has influenced me in one form or another, and I thank each and every one of them. Thanks to my Mother and Father for making the sacrifices in order to give me this opportunity, and for encouraging me to reach my potential.

My sun sets to rise again.

My education at St. Andrew's College has finally come to an end, leaving me with knowledge I need to succeed and the memories I will never forget. I'm very fortunate to be able to attend this institution. S.A.C. taught me the importance of being an all around individual, for this I'm grateful. Special Thanks to my parents and grandparents for their support and encouragement. Thanks also to Mr. Kinney for all his advice and to everyone who assisted along the way. Thank you!

Six years at SAC, and it seems that it has all gone over my head in a giant blaze of glory. Besides all the good and bad times I've encountered here, there are three valuable lessons I've come away with. Those being organization, respect for others, and to always believe in yourself no matter what task you are faced with. Thanks must go to all my teachers for their help, patience and understanding. To the boys, Ali, Steve, Alex, Ben, Sean, Brock, Tyson: thanks for the laughs, memories and, oh yeah, the drives home. Thanks, as well, to all the other great people I've met here. Finally, to my parents for the encouragement, support and the opportunities. Thank you.

Activities: Review, Cadets-Adj., Entertainment Magazine, House Play '91 (The Interview), Scholar, Houseleague

It seems only like yesterday when... Suddenly it is Grade 13, and we are into the final stretch. The last Carol Service, the last MacPherson Tournament... where does all the time go? St. Andrew's is a "people place", and there are many who have influenced my thoughts, actions and life over the last seven years. Thanks for everything. In particular, I would like to thank Mr. Timms, for having the patience and stamina to read all my options and inspiring me to write more of them- I'll never forget the TOWER OF WISDOM; Mr. Sommerville, for putting up with me for the last three years and my repeated request for a better parking spot- when I come back to visit I'll finally be able to park behind the Science building! To Mr. Halstead, my tutor, coach and friend, whose advice and encouragement have caused me to grow and mature. To the Grad Class of '91, the best of luck. Finally, I'd like to express my gratitude to my parents, for providing me with the opportunity. It's been great!

Mark J. Umphrey (1984-91)

Activities: Musical (2a), House Capt., Pipes and Drums (5a, MWO, Bass Drum), Focus, SAC in France, Rocky Horror with Brock & Fish, Social Committee, Spain '88, common room sleeping, inhaling "books", pizza hut club

Sayings: "Howdy cow!", "Ash - mobile library?", "Ahh shut up!", "No, I really shouldn't - well, OK."

I feel this is neither space for in jokes, stories to amuse a few friends nor the space for personal reflection. St. Andrew's is not a school but a large melting pot. During your stay, you take a little of everything and mold your own unique character. All experiences, good or bad, are of worth; their influence teaches you to handle various situations. To my family, my deepest gratitude for your unending support and open ears. The only way I can repay your love is with my own. To each and every one of my friends, all of you have influenced me greatly and your contributions to the best times of my life will be remembered always. Finally, my sincere thanks to Mr. & Mrs. C. You two are one of the greatest assets to be found in the pot. Whatever words come to mind to show my appreciation, "It isn't enough." My experiences here have helped me to believe in myself, trust my intuition and taught me the lesson all must learn in time: "free lunches" don't exist (especially during illegal flees!). You must pay the bill AND the tip to get what you wish to order.

Seven years is a long time in one place. I have my memories (both good bad), but let's not let the bad overshadow the good. Friends and family help you through: People, you learn to love and hate. To my friends, remember! (Chris's House, Cast Parties, let's go to the Hut) I think you know who you are. If not, you never were.

To my family, thanks for accepting me for who I am.

To Mnbch, K.A., Don't lose the feeling.

To all of the above, I love you all. Good luck next year.

Over my four years at SAC I have developed certain qualities which will help me on the rough road of life. I have learned respect, pride, and most importantly I have learned the true meaning of friendship. I would like to thank my parents and my sister for all the love and support they have given me; these are the factors which have kept me going through all these years. Finally, to my friends, the time has come for me to say goodbye and though I will probably not see most of you guys again, you will always be a great part of me. We went through good times and bad times but we have finally made it. Thanks for everything Robo!

House: brilliant game-pool organizer; editor and writer of the money-consuming school magazines (EN & V); and other good stuff.

It has been four years since I stepped into the gateway of S.A.C. I now cherish many moments and memories. S.A.C.'s system has somewhat transformed me into a better person. Boarding, cadets, and sports have disciplined me well. Academics have removed my thinking blocks and enhanced my understanding of life and society. The people I have met anchored my spiritual requirements during my stay at S.A.C. I am grateful for the school providing me with so many opportunities to involve myself in diverse fields. I'd also like to thank my parents for making all these possible. Finally, I also like to thank my tutor, Mr. Myrans, all my teachers and coaches, and of course my friends for making my stay more interesting.

choppin'!!!!"

I have nothing to say that has not been said before, (this is one of the few times I've had nothing to say). Instead I will thank those who have helped me on my journey and without whom I would have surely faltered. Mom and Dad; Thank-you for all your support and love - I do appreciate all you've sacrificed for me. John & Lee; I cannot even begin to say how much you've done for me - thanks. Mr. Hiltz, Mr. Scoular, Mr. Stuart, and Mr. Treasure; besides adding a smile to my face you've helped me to grow and mature. Miss Austin; you were there at the start of this journey to guide me. And last, but far from least, my friends; you know who you are, and I hope you realize just how much you've done for me and mean to me. Goodbye, (for now).

Next Year: I will be just a name in this book.

Matthew R. White (1990-91)

House: Flavelle

Sayings: "Hey Macho.", "Get to know me!"

Activities: 2nd Soccer, Ski Team.

Five years at any high school is enough to turn your brain to guano, but S.A.C., that was the real test. I had a hard time fitting into such a tightly woven community, but once I was in, I loved it. Years later I will be able to look back and be thankful for the experience. As for now, I out'ta here, and I am not looking back. Thank you S.A.C., for turning my life around, and giving me some pride in myself. Thanks to you Mom and Dad, for giving me the opportunity to be here. And thanks to myself, for having the strength to endure all the hardships of the last couple of years and coming out on top. Later, and it's been buckets of fun!

These six long years at S.A.C. have taught me a great amount in the way of getting and keeping friends. I've been through a lot here most not good and I am amazed that I made it. Many people have thanked the school in their comments but not this one... sorry. I'd really like to thank my buddies M.P., S.M., T.K., J.B.W., J.P.W., B.W., P.S., A.B., G.H., Mon frere et mon frere de nome, and expecially Vince Dibatista, who made S.A.C. livable and often times an amazing place to be. Thanks guys I wouldn't have made it with out ya'll. I would also like to thank my parents for the discipline and the opportunity to be sent to such a unique place and the chance to learn what I have learned, also the sacrifices you have made will not be forgotten; I love you both...THANKS. Thanks to Trish for being there, S.A.C. is an amazing place, one can still be lonely surrounded by his friends.

A brief summation of my life at St. Andrew's College would be impossible. The development of my character exceeds description. Therefore, I will say what must be said; nothing more.

I must acknowledge the teaching staff for their unequaled practice, and my parents for their understanding, guidance, care, and money. Thanks go to my friends for their friendship, and to my enemies for their enmity. Most of all, I would like to thank myself for getting out of here.

To those colleagues who are also graduating, I offer the following advice:

"Unless we come apart and rest awhile, we may just come apart."

"I came, I saw, I conquered!" This is the end of the chapter of high school; it is time to move on with my life. Five years of experience undoubtedly has its memories. SAC has changed my character, my study habits and most certainly my life. These great memories would not have been possible without my parents and KT's support and encouragement; I love you very, very much. Thanks to all of my friends; especially See-Wai, VL, ML and WM. All the good times I have had with these people couldn't possible be expressed in words, I will miss you all. And finally a word of gratitude to Mr. Treasure, Mr. Inglis, Mr. Dunford, Mr. Giel, Mr. Foy and Mrs. Hiltz. I just wish I can have more time to share with Ramsey House and do more for St. Andrew's.

Where might you have heard one of my famous and common sayings?!! Well, undoubtedly in the action-packed common room, the day-boy locker room or in one of my many classes which no one else attends! My seven years at SAC have certainly been an experience and will never be forgotten. I can still remember my first day-I was shy, tentative and expecting the worst. But to my surprise, I wasn't alone. That day, everyone in grade 7 looked just as lost as I was. Today, 7 years later, I realize that graduating from SAC has left me fond memories of common room brawls and the endless list of practical jokes. But on a more serious note, I would like to thank my parents for sending me to SAC even though I had thought that I was in for the worst. Thanks to Mr. Robinson for his relentless support and also thanks to Mr. Somerville for his encouragement in my final year. To all of my buddies-you've made it seem like one laugh after another. Each one of us will take what we have learned at SAC and expand on these roots remembering that, "Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration." (Thomas Edison)

Nicknames: Art, Arffuh, Trigger, China Wu

Sayings: "It's time to go for one.", "Yeah right, whatever!", "Leave me alone, the best times of my life are when I'm sleeping."

Activities: Few as they may be I am proud of them: Fencing team, Assistant to the Fine Arts Society

When I first arrived at SAC I thought that it was hell on earth. The discipline, the order...it was like a hitch in the army. However, I did manage to get used to life around here and managed to pull out in one piece and I must say that I've enjoyed the experience. The sports, the activities, the cadets..it all builds character. For these two years that I've been at SAC I've had good times and bad times. More good than bad though. I know that I must have given several members of the SAC staff a hard time, and I would like to apologize to them here. Secondly, I'd like to thank my best buddies who are too numerous to mention. (You know who you are!) Best wishes to Mike, Vic, Vincent and brother Dog. I'll see you around.

Explorer (Nov. 89), Buchanan 1st Clan colours, Junior Achievement (Company of the Year), Changing cars, Hanging out with Mrs. Marsh (3a).

SAC is a long winding road which I have travelled for the past four years. When I first entered SAC, I had to adjust to my new environment. Going to Saturday classes, chapel, cadets, and tying a tie were a whole new experience. Ever since that first night, Memorial has been my second home. Being here has helped me out of my shell and now I feel confident in dealing with people. I owe a permanent debt of gratitude to my peers, my mentors, and above all, my family. They have given me a stepping stone from which to start the trek up the mountain which we call life. To those who are at SAC I leave you this: "Gather ye rosebuds while ye may. Old time is still a flying." For me, time at SAC has fled!

Sayings: "Are you high?", "You wanna go?", "You are such a LOSER!", "Boy I tell you.", "Steve, you should have seen this girl.", "Thems the breaks!"

St. Andrew's was definitely a learning experience. Inevitably, from every experience in our lives we learn from accomplishments and mistakes. At SAC, I hope I have accomplished. I know I made mistakes, and thus, I learned. The patient and loving encouragement of my parents strengthened my commitments to athletics and academics. Thanks.

As I reflect on my years at St. Andrew's, I feel positive about care and concern which the teachers and students have given to me. Although it may not show through my academic achievement, I would like my parents, Mr. Bedard, Mr. Inglis, Mr. Treasure, and all other members of the St. Andrew's community to be aware that I am grateful for having attended St. Andrew's College. I believe that the greatest gift St. Andrew's has given me is the friends whom I will know for the rest of my life. I am most happy and proud to be a member of the soup gang. At present, I could name almost 20 people who have wisely chosen to join the soup gang. I believe St. Andrew's has taught me the value of good health, friends and life. Next year I'll go to Carleton in Ottawa to learn about Psychology. Hello, real world! here I come!

After 6 years here at S.A.C. I can finally say that it is over. In grade 7 I came as a lost, young boy and I leave as a mature, young man. In these six years

I have been enriched by the sports, academics, extra curricular activities, and by the friendships that I have found here. There have been many experiences here that have shaped me that I will never forget. S.A.C. has taught me how to cope with enormous pressures, and has taught me how to succeed under those conditions. I would like to thank Mr. Giel, Mr. Myrans, and Mr. Whitehead for helping me get through these years, and I would especially like to thank my parents. Thank You.

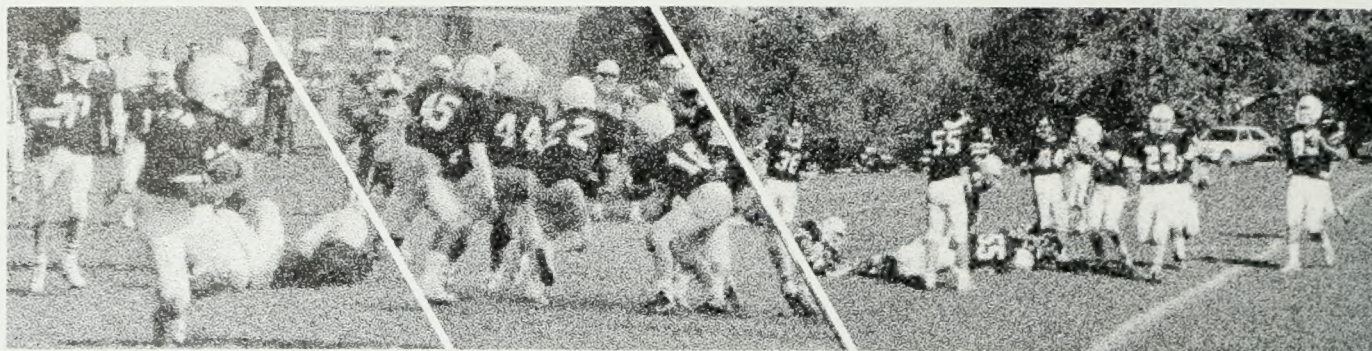

FALL TERM

It was Autumn, and incessant
Piped the quails from shocks and sheaves,
And, like living coals, the apples
Burned among the withering leaves.

- Longfellow

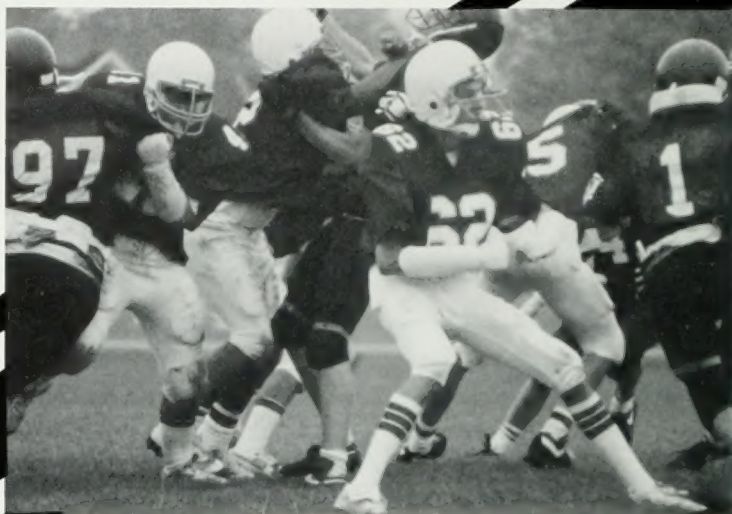

The 1990 football season was a learning year for many of those on the Under 16 squad. This was clearly shown in our results. We started the season with high hopes for a successful, winning year. These hopes were quickly dashed in four successive losses to all of our ISAA opponents. In those four games we were out-scored by a total of 71 to 1.

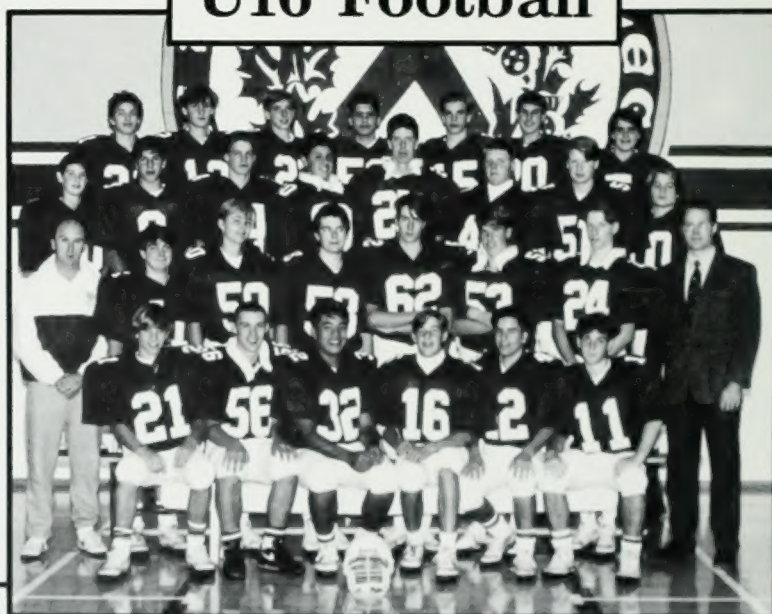

The true nature of this team was shown by the fact that they battled back to win both some respectability and their last three games. In the process they proved that they were not only competitive, but (by the end of the season) dominant in their league, beating Appleby 7-6, UCC 19-6 and Ridley 16-1.

The team was led offensively by quarterback Justin Bates, and the strong running of Jose Sotres and MVP James Nichols. The offensive line was anchored by the second year duo of Rob Kelly and Mike Morgan along with "rookie" Sebastian Herce. Defensively, captains John Delfin and Ian Cragg were leaders along with first year players Jason Greer, Geoff Brenaugh and MIP Shawn Christie.

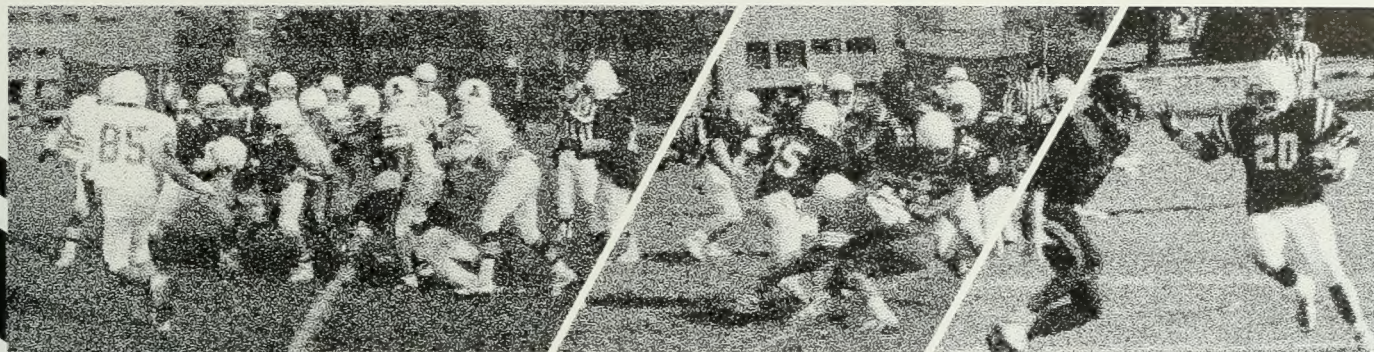

The coaches would like to thank all those who worked so hard all year and congratulate them on their truly successful season.

If you are inclined to judge the success of a team by looking at only the numbers in the wins-loss column, then read no further. However, if you make your evaluation by factoring in a variety of data, then may we present the 1990 edition of the U15 Football team. The coaches were dismayed at the outset of the season by the small turnout for the team and the physical size of the players. The former was overcome in time as more boys showed up to practice. The latter concern was overcome by that imponderable called "intestinal fortitude"-no matter what the score, the team never stopped trying!

Unlike the other football teams in the school, the U15 squad did not have a nucleus of players who had some experience. This team had to start with basics, such as blocking and tackling in addition to mastering all the other skills which experienced players take for granted.

The other schools we played against seemed to have done a good job of attracting healthy numbers of BIG students in the U15 age group, and there were times when we felt much like David vs. Goliath (unfortunately without the same outcome that David achieved).

Despite this, a great deal was accomplished, and this augurs well for the U16 team next year. Those who will still be young enough to play for the U15 team next year will be able to give some fine leadership.

Finally, the coaches would like to thank the team for the pleasure of working with such a fine group of individuals - you were a "class act".

GW/GS

This season marked the rebuilding and learning process of our second team. Inheriting our losing record of last year, our squad started the season with high hopes to change the results during this season. With the exception of a few returning II team veterans, our squad was mainly composed of rookies and players from the previous U16 team. However, this year, the team gained a few spiritual leaders such as Tom Hockin and Bart Sommerville to help march us towards our common goal.

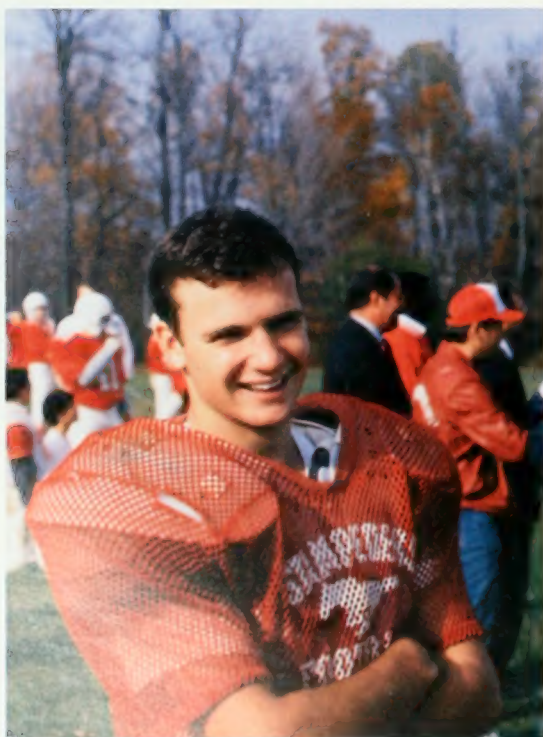

Right !!!...not exactly...our season remained winless. However, this was due to factors not apparent in the statistics alone. Unfortunately, our offense lacked consistency and was unable to score during crucial situations. Our offense was also unable to stay on the field long enough to control the clock. As a result, our defense ended up playing most of the game. Although our defense was worn down physically, our spirits remained strong and unbeatable. We were competitive and this was demonstrated later in the season. Hopefully, the upcoming squad will be more consistent and will have a successful season.

Well, we won a game. Fair enough. However, that doesn't exactly make us Super Bowl contenders, but it was a vast improvement over last season's winless campaign. At the start of training camp, most people did not think we would even score a point. Even Vegas oddsmakers refused to handle our games. Coach Ackerman was faced with a team consisting of countless rookies and a handful of injury-prone veterans. We entered our first game unsure of which way to run, once we had the ball. Throughout all this confusion, Coach and his assistant Jack Mulchnock never gave up on us and we began to develop into a proud team starting to gel. Our luck with injuries, however, got worse. We lost starters resulting from mono and strange skin diseases. The younger players had a chance to "shine" as replacements, and shine they did; leaving great hopes for future teams. The season itself was filled with memories. The leaving players would like to thank both our coaches for all their support and knowledge, and Brock Whalley for his excellent work as manager. We wish next year's team all the best.

U13 Soccer is always a special team. This year it had the privilege of participating in a national tournament of Independent Schools held at St. John's-Ravenscourt School in Winnipeg. The team was well led by two fine young players Jesse Kerr and captain Fred Perowne. There was much enthusiasm and spirit and many players improved over the season; notably defenseman Greg Berdett, and Ivor Ip, who played with spirit and then stepped into the net for the last two games when our reliable goalie Ed Mercer sustained an unfortunate eye injury in practice. Two players who combined skill with unselfish and sportsmanlike play were Simon Williams and Keith Dadson. The MVP's were Chris Heinig and Fred Perowne. To them and to the team, my thanks for a great season. You were indeed a special team.

So much can be said for two-touch soccer. When our team used it, we were unstoppable; but when we didn't, well...

We had a large squad of players who exercised a great deal of skill, and who always worked hard until the final whistle. This was evident in our home game vs. UCC (the highlight of the season). In a game that 'saw-sawed' back and forth we played an aggressive two-touch game with excellent defence, and emerged victors by one goal. We were the only team to beat UCC this season.

We finished the term with a record of five wins, three losses and one tie in regular season play - and we gained third place in the annual Ridley U15 Tournament. My thanks to all the boys for an exciting season.

The regular season certainly had its ups and downs: a very good beginning, an indifferent middle, and an encouraging end. Our spirits, however, always remained high, and in order to redeem a mediocre season, we focussed on the ISAA tournament held on the final day.

On the big day itself the omens were positive: the tournament was at SAC, the fields were in perfect condition, we were fit and the gods smiled upon us with balmy, springlike weather. And what a day it turned out to be for the team! With just twelve players available for the day, we exceeded our expectations by winning six games to reach the Championship final. It would be nice to say that we were victors, but it was not to be and we lost to a very good St. Georges' team (3 - 1).

My thanks to the players for a determined season and to Mr. Treasure, whose presence and help was, as always, invaluable. Peter Stuart

At the 'early bird' tournament you could smell leather. We came in second place to those, I won't say it, 'guys' at UCC. Then the season began. We had a few wins, a few ties, but no losses. Then we were off to Quebec. At the Bishop's College tournament, we were handed defeats by the Cayman Islands and Lower Canada but with the buckets and expert camera work of Michael Frind, we viewed and corrected our mistakes and came in a respectable third.

After we returned to SAC the loss of our MVP, Roman Melnyk, caused the team to board an elevator that was going down. Our captain, Nick Rose, and assistant captains, Nick Collingwood and Rob Mantrop, tried to uplift the spirits of the other members for our final valiant attempt against, who else, UCC; but we fell short for the last time.

Our MIP Sean McGrath, added a new dimension to the team, comprised of guys like Bustan, Super, Spaz, Shredder, Shil, Shish, Ashtray and of course Queen Latifah. On the behalf of the team; I, the Dalai-Lama, would like to offer all the greatest of thanks, appreciation, love and respect in the world to Mr. M. Jones with his Chemecology, and to, of course, El Robo.

Oh, by the way guys, when you play at Albert, wait until you get home to shower! Hope next year is most triumphant for you dudes.

The MVP was a skillful, reliable and talented player, Kevin "Roller" Mertens. Mark "Gangly" Glazer improved greatly.

We had a 6-4 league record. This included wins over Ridley, Appleby and CDS, and losses to TCS and UCC in close open games. The tournament saw us seeded third, which is where we ended up after losing to UCC in semi-final overtime.

Thanks for the excellent leadership and coaching.

U14 Volleyball

"Can you coach volleyball?" "Sure, no problem," (after all, as a first-year master one wants to appear confident).

"Hmmm...", I then thought, "volleyball...that's the game with the net and the white ball. Right?"

The first practice helped me put things in perspective: all the talent was clearly out on the court - which is where it should be, I wisely concluded. The team was deep, wide and long in talent. The 3-D effect was definitely in evidence folks. Ups? Yes, we had them. Downs? We had those too. In the end though, it was individual skill, team awareness and the ability to play our positions well (positions, remember those guys?) that gained us the 1990 ISAA Championship (I forgot to include in this list the wicked serving of both Julian Hall and Erik Hedges which stunned more than one of our opponents.) The year had a circular movement to it. Our first game of the season was against St. George's College. It was a tough match, with St. George's taking the first game 15-3. We took the next two games, but not without some hard-fought rallies and teeth-grinding action. In the championship match, it was St. George's again; winning the first game, 15-4. We were stunned. After all, we had lost only one match all year - we fell to Trinity at our Homecoming - and here we were nearly teetering on the brink of defeat after a sterling season of play. What did we do? We fought hard and we won the next two games.

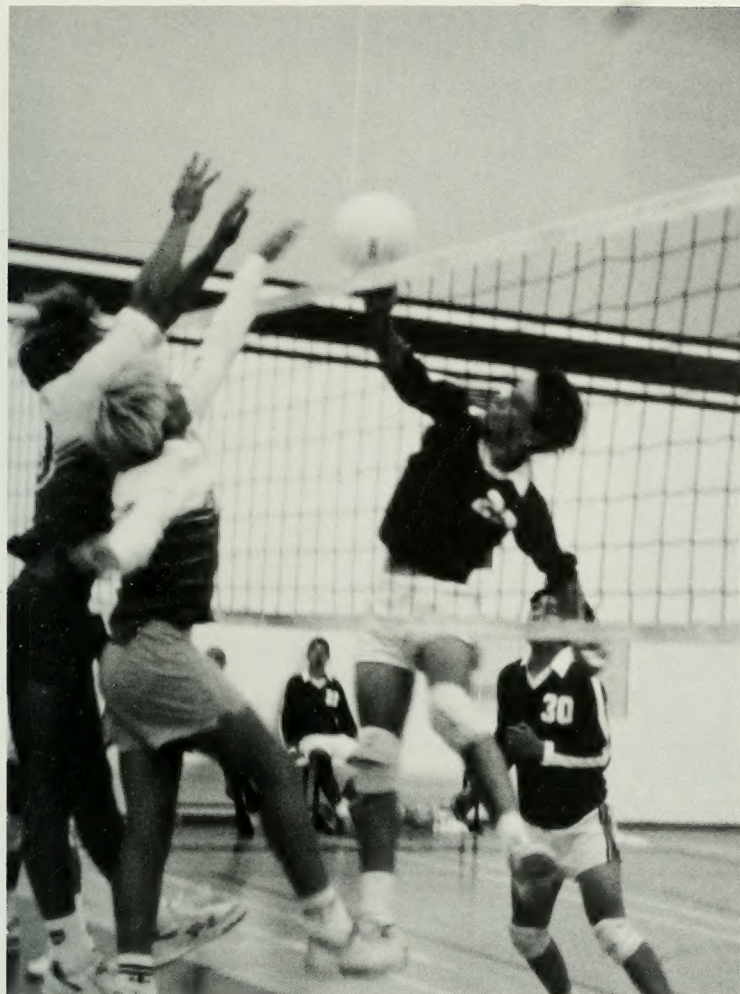

Hail to the victors:

The U16 Volleyball team had a very successful season, winning eight of the ten games played. One of the many highlights of the season was an exhibition game played against a "senior team" from Mentor College. Our team not only won in three straight sets, but overcame a 12 to 1 deficit in one of the sets. The U16 Volleyball team represented SAC at the end of the season in the ISAA U16 Tournament championship by winning three games in straight sets - only to lose the championship game to TCS, two sets to one.

Eugene Ka earned the MIP award; a person who had never played the game before, he became a first string player. The choice for MVP is always difficult to make - especially when a team has a great deal of talent, such as this one. In the end, the players chose Paul Lau as the MVP. Congratulations to all!

Even though we didn't win any regular season games, we still managed to have a great deal of fun this year. The team had a lot of character and was very innovative. Mike Boyd could always be counted on to make a good excuse for why he didn't show up for practice, while Jamie Menlove never ceased to make up new punishments that he would like to put into effect for 'practice skippers'. Encouraging words of support from Marcus Hooper and Kevin Taylor were always in supply and if a play wasn't performed perfectly, Zaigham Zulquernain always made sure that his views on the matter were fully expressed.

The leadership of Jim Dennis was never doubted or questioned by Dan Nelles, who gladly gave his own ideas to the team and accompanied with such incredible listeners such as Jeff and the Boyd-man, Jim and Dan's faultless plays were always executed with such finesse by the team that it was simply unbelievable that we lost every game. All in all, it was an enjoyable season.

First Volleyball has come a long way in the last few years. With the combination of 3 returning seniors, 3 additions from U16, and 3 new members, we enjoyed a very successful year. Coached by Mr. Gaertner and led by David Kim, the team was very disciplined and our 10 - 4 record demonstrated this. With the powerful spiking and blocking of Carlos del Pino, and the individual abilities of the other members of the team, we proved to be an incredible offensive threat and a defensive wonder. Our best game of the year was against the defending champions from TCS in the semi-finals of the ISAA. Our punishing 3 - 0 sweep proved to be the Bears' only loss this season. Unfortunately, we were defeated in the ISAA finals to UCC. With many players returning next year and with the high quality coaching given by Mr. Gaertner, the team should have an even stronger season.

Houseleague

For the past twenty years, Senior Houseleague has taken a back seat to all other sports at SAC. It has been shunned by many, and deemed "athletically unacceptable."

All that changed this year, as the program was revamped under the auspices of Mr. Halstead, who overtook its management. The structure of the program was changed. Instead of playing two sports for three months, a rotation system was used whereby teams alternated between five different sports. These sports included: soccer, baseball, tennis/squash, swimming and football. In addition to the range of activities, Houseleague was expanded from forty to seventy-five minutes. Overall, reaction to "the new Houseleague" has been positive. Students like the variety of sports, and they love the practice-free weekends. It seems fitting that Houseleague should change as we enter the 90's; and it is now at a level that is comparable to the other sports at SAC. What other sport offers more choice?

The SAC cross-country team lost several runners due to injuries during the 1990 season. Nonetheless, we posted a number of strong individual performances. David Michael won his category at the ISAA meet, and went on to qualify for OFSAA. Steven Lewis placed second at the York Montessori meet, and seventh at the ISAA U14 meet. Chris Donnelly placed sixth at York Montessori, where SAC's U14 team took second place; and he placed thirteenth at the ISAA U14 meet. Randy Tsioris placed sixth at the East York Harrier meet. Coach Rejean Grenier named David Michael as MVP and Chris Donnelly as MIP for the season. The strength and improvement of the younger runners bids well for many seasons to come.

Homecoming

Homecoming provided an exciting day for returning Andreans and students alike. A beautiful, crisp Autumn day was the perfect backdrop to show the campus at its most picturesque. Old boys shared memories and enjoyed the action on the fields as soccer and football teams battled a strong TCS opposition. The magnificent new pool, with additional squash courts and change rooms, were officially opened and the day was capped by a gala dinner held in the Great Hall while a student dance was held in the big gym. Many thanks must go to Mr. Herder and those supporters who worked to organize and orchestrate a most successful event.

Expansion Week

Each year, during Expansion Week, St. Andrew's sends students all over the world to visit exotic and educational attractions. This year our trips were to Russia, the Bahamas for SCUBA diving, England, Quebec and Arizona. While some students visited these foreign locales, those remaining at SAC participated in interesting programs such as law, medicine and community service.

This year's house plays were slightly delayed but much anticipated. From the very beginning we were flooded with advertisements and news about the upcoming spectacle. I'm sure we were all wondering who "Naked Man" was and exactly why he was naked. The night started with an amusing, light-hearted skit of the masters at the college brought to us by New House. Next came Memorial House's deep and dark play starring the "coloured" Scott Mahaffy. The last play was Sifton House's "Naked Man" starring who else but George Basu. When the night had ended, Sifton House had all the awards but everyone had had a good time. Hats off to all who were involved!

And no leaf stirring in the wood;
The little streams are cold and still;
Never so still has winter stood.*

The U14 Hockey team had a successful season this year with a record: 10-3-1. We started the season strongly, beating UCC 1-0 in the finals of their early bird tournament. After losing only to Nichols during league play we entered the final tournament as one of the top teams. We won three easy games and then met our hardest competition, Nichols, in the semi-finals. We were defeated 4-2 after a strong effort from everyone. One of the highlights of the season was playing a team which represented Czechoslovakia. We lost 14-0, however it was a good experience playing against such a skilled and disciplined team.

This year we used the three man goalie rotation which proved to be successful. The team was made up of talented players such as Jesse Kerr (Captain), Fred Perowne, Steve Mantrop, Jim McClocklin and Andrew Wilson. The success of the year was due to the hard work of the whole team, which improved greatly during the season. Rob Mantrop

The best laid plans of mice and men quite often go astray; such was the case this year. The build up through the season was slow, cautious and purposeful leading to the last few games before the ISAA tournament when we were at our best and playing excellently and successfully. Then came, finally, the end of year tournament upon which we had focussed all season. Alas, it was not to be a triumphant one. Due to illness and injury we were reduced to just eleven players and although we played with determination and spirit, the third period of each game became too much to handle.

Ah well, there is always next year and we shall try again! My best wishes to all who are moving on to the Senior teams in the school and my thanks to Mr Dawson for his invaluable help.

This was an interesting season for the team. We started out the season very badly, losing game after game by large margins. The players never became discouraged and practised hard when ice time finally became available. The great strides made by the players in improving their skills and in learning how to work as a team were demonstrated in the last game of the season when we tied TCS. Further improvement was shown in the tournament where we won our first game of the season as well as tied another. The MIP as selected by the team was Brendon Hooper and the MVP for the second year in a row was Andrew Beach. Congrats to all.

2nd Hockey or Tier II Hockey, as we prefer to be known, had a very consistent season. Unfortunately, winning was not part of our consistency. However, hardwork, good goal tending and a cheerful attitude enabled us to enjoy the season nonetheless. Strong leadership from captain Kevin Mertens and assistants James Morgan and Tom Farr kept our team's spirits high. MVP was awarded to Jason Neubauer and MIP was awarded to Ken Magee. A special thanks to Christian Stein for helping us out in net on occasion. As they say in the pro's; "this was a building year." Look out for us next season.

First Hockey had what is commonly called a "character building year"! Perhaps never has such a young team built so much character as this group did this year. But before the depression sets in, the key factor to recognize is that this was by far the youngest team in both the ISAA and York Region. So while other teams graduate their star players, ours will mostly all be back next year. Certainly we will miss the services of: Jeff Metcalfe and brother Andrew, Manabu Mimaki (who will forget his end to end goal with 1:35 left against Markham on Friday night), Jamie Bigger and Ian Davidson-MIP (did anyone work harder than this guy?). The boys left behind have a bright future ahead. These consist of top point-getter Chris Marrin (43 points in 32 games), top goal scorer Jeff Lessif (18 goals-39 points in 36 games), and solid defensemen James Brown, Brian McKague, and rookie Jason Reid (this kid has 3 more years). Others like Nick McQuire, Roman Melnyk (did this guy have bad luck or what?), Christian Stein and Toby Reid will be another year older, bigger, faster and smarter and are sure to be contributors to a winning season.

Certainly the leadership of this team will remain with the return of veteran Captain Matt Chisholm, winner of the MVP award, who throughout the difficult season, was positive, hardworking and the best all-round player on the ice for SAC.

Highlights of the Year: i) The MacPherson Tournament-Friday Night - still undefeated! 5-5 tie with York-Durham region Champions and OFSSA participants Markham High. ii) beating previously undefeated King City, 7-5 iii) Losing 5-2 to the eventual OFSSA Champions -St. Charles- and being in the game the whole way!

Thanks Bernie, we didn't lose the uniforms! Thanks for the effort gentlemen, and good luck!

The Under 13 basketball team did not have a great year as far as its win column was concerned; however, we did improve tremendously throughout the course of the season. Some people that should be recognized for improving the most are Jonathan Armstrong (who also won the MIP award), Andrew Ipekian, Victor To, and Jonathan Hui. However, it is fair to say everyone improved greatly. I would like to give a special thanks to our coach, Geoff Browne for committing himself to the team so much. I am sure everyone learned at least one new skill this year from Geoff's fine coaching.

This year our team showed a great deal of enthusiasm and talent. We were successful in winning a few games with the help of our speedy point-guard Paul Etherington (Captain), our other agile guard Jed Dadson, superb side shooter, Neil Ritchie, tall and skillful forward Kevin Hurley and foul shooter, Helmut Kellen. I would like to give special thanks to our coach, Mr. Somerville who has coached me for 2 consecutive years, and all the other members of the team. Mr. Somerville has taught us the basics of basketball and has encouraged us to take important steps towards playing good ball with good sportsmanship.

I am happy to report that the U15 Basketball team of 1990-1991 gave a solid effort throughout the season and played some very effective basketball. The end of season tournament was not as well played in that we lost the services of Austin Page who usually had given us the control we needed when "bringing the ball up court". Our 'tall' men: Kevin, Jan, Mar, and William were effective on rebounding and the strong efforts made by Sean, Terrence, Trevor and Chris at guard spots gave us needed 'ball control'. Mike T. learned to effectively cover his man and Louis D. displayed strong determination to learn the intricate skill of 'pivoting'. Keith was, at times, a key scorer for the team and learned to handle the defensive skills.

All in all a lot was learned by each member of the team and I hope that these players will continue in the game.

This year was a very successful year for the team. Everybody's skill level improved greatly. Also their confidence and attitude towards the game improved and this was due to our coach Mr. R. Perrier. As we entered our season no one on our team had hopes or even dreams of having a championship season. That wasn't the case however as our team went to the semi-finals against two teams that had previously beaten us badly at the start of the year. Losing only by about 5 points, we definitely made our mark in the minds of other coaches and players. On behalf of all of the players I would like to thank our coach for a wonderful and successful season.

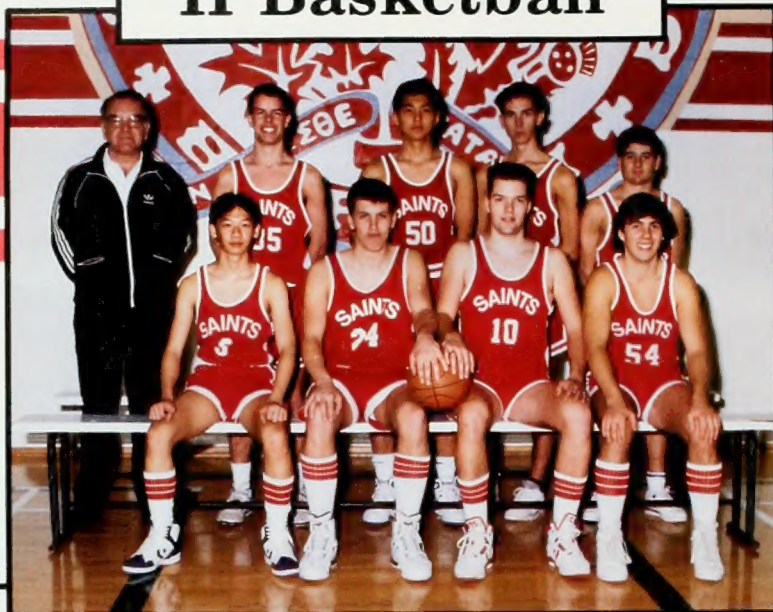

The Second Basketball team started out the season a very average team. With hard work and good effort they became a very good one, ending the season with a record of eight wins and five losses. Lead by Floris Bijl, they finished the year by winning the I.S.S.A. Second team tournament. John Ginou and Hugo Jeffery were picked by their team mates as Co-captains and Co-Most Valuable players. Javier Hernando was selected as the Most-Improved Player. Jon Ginou was the team high scorer.

I.S.A.A. & D.Y.S.S.A. CHAMPIONS

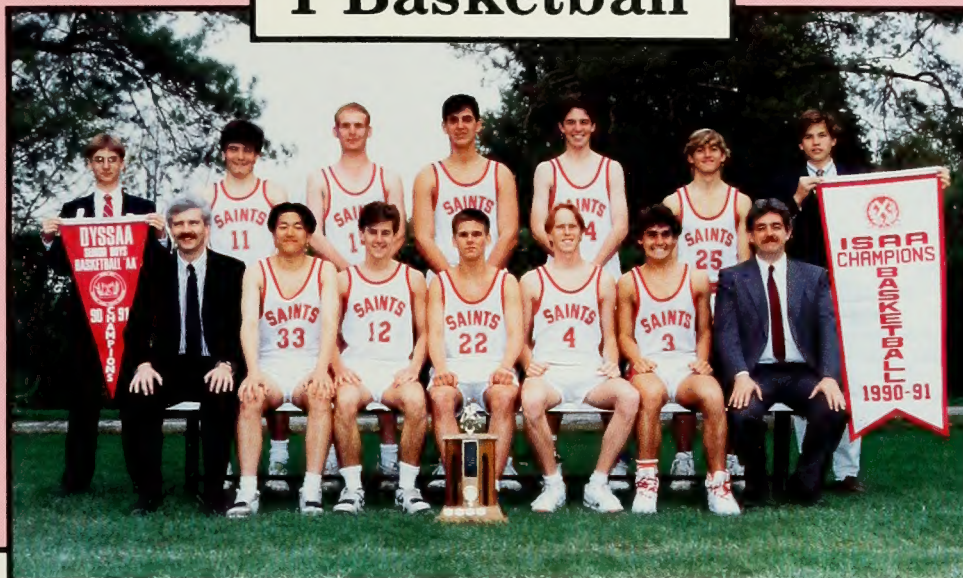

Surprise! It has been an ice-cold decade since a Saints 1st Basketball team has had the honour of winning an Independent Schools' League championship. This year, after going through many dry spells, the team managed to pull itself together in time to win not only the ISAA, but

York region and Durham-York region leagues as well. Inside this crew (only 2 veterans), there were many key components, without which, the idea of a leather jacket would have been virtually impossible. Our fearless captain, Andrew Bulas, who, sometimes would use that fearlessness to rip his ankle apart, would pave the road to winning games with his daring dashes to the hoop and timely three-pointers. Along side him, the assistant, Mike Nourse (MIP) displayed after some time, the fundamental requirements needed to play at the 1st team level and stood tall when injuries and other delays came about. The center from Puerto Rico, Carlos del Pino (MVP), used his overpowering size and talent to crush the boards at both ends and block opponents' shots with fiery compulsion. The outstanding rookie Craig Matheson, was forced to play the difficult position of guard and forward but had no trouble accepting the responsibility as well as shutting down the opposition. One of our few 'big men', Rory Manning improved consistently throughout the season to a point where he was an immensely intimidating factor in all games. That guy who comes out of nowhere, Dave Kim, had great shots, timing, and improved his game tremendously by season's end. The one with speed, Mike Lamb, proved valuable with his impressive speed that was almost unstoppable against even the quickest of teams. Our defensive specialist, Brent Riopelle, displayed to many what was needed defensively to win a championship by guarding only the top opponents. Learning what team work is, is a very big aspect in basketball. Steve Heron displayed that what you can't do on the court, you can do on the bench. (He was also the only one to bring a ball to practice). The York-

Region MVP, Garret Taylor, showed some damaging moves, including his patented "James Edwards" shot, and proved himself at both ends of the court. Our fire and ice coaches, Mr. Josselyn and Mr. Hanson, along with our all-star manager, Jeff Holliday, were the much needed "off the court" part of the game.

A tough loss at TCS and another unplanned default at home vs. Ridley were the low points of the year but showed that this was more of a team effort to not only finish the season gracefully, but to finish as champions.

Much appreciation goes to the devoted fans (better than Ridley's). Congratulations to all and thanks for the championship season.

Alpine Skiing

The Alpine Ski team's season was full of "ups and downs"! The first race was an experience as Thanos careened off course because his goggles fogged up, and also because half of the team was not able to attend due to academic commitments. The other two races went well. We had been training hard, and also eating well at the Depot diner. The team placed in the top five at both races. The highlights of the team's season were Ali hitting the metal timing post at full speed, Scott Mahaffy's driving tips for icy road conditions and Jeremy's excuses as to why he didn't want to do something strenuous. The team would like to thank Mr. Scoular for his help and support in keeping the team fit and in good shape with aerobics. We are only losing one member of the team and next year, hopefully, we will enter the ISAA in which we have a good chance at going all the way.

Nordic Skiing

The Nordic ski team had one of its most successful seasons this year. Our junior team was the top junior boys' team in DYSSAA which qualified them to compete at the OFSSA. At the Ontario championships the junior team placed 14th out of 23 teams. The MIP for this year's junior team was Otto Schuemer and the MVP was David Michael. David Michael had some outstanding finishes during the season on his own as well. He won a silver and gold at the Ontario Winter Games, placed 3rd at OFSAA, as well as getting a silver and gold medal at the Junior National Championships in Prince George, B.C. David is now currently ranked as the #2 juvenile aged skier in Canada!

The senior team was a close second at the ISAA finals which was a real heartbreak but many of our skiers made drastic improvements over the season. Some members made improvements of nearly 15 minutes over a 10km. course. For his improvement Stefan Steen was awarded MIP. Ian Michael was awarded MVP and succeeded in winning his 3rd straight I.S.A.A. championship. He also went to Prince George and returned with all top ten finishes and is now hoping for an appointment to the Ontario Ski Team.

Congratulations to Mr. Gaertner on a most successful season and a great pasta dinner. Until next year....

There was genuine excitement and anticipation at the beginning of this year's squash season. Thanks to the efforts of Mr. J. Herder we had six brand new courts to practice and compete on. It is a complex admired and envied by all of our visiting teams. The complement to this first class facility was this year's group of enthusiastic team members dedicated to the improvement and enjoyment of the game.

The junior team was comprised of a few veterans and a large proportion of rookies. We had to be realistic in our expectations. Improvement came through fitness and skill development, a regimen which the team patiently adopted. The results of our program became obvious. We managed convincing victories over Albert and Ridley College, and gave good competition to Appleby and TCS. Each match was exciting. This was in part because of the performance by our MIP Josh Ginou. He lost only 1 seasonal match! A common post-game question became, "Did Josh win again?" - he usually did. It was a source of inspiration to us all.

As a coach I was impressed with the tenacity of our team. I would often find team members practicing at lunch or on days off. I witnessed the emergence of fun-spirited rivalries: Serge and Eric battling for top spot (with Eric using the first squash racket ever made!); Josh and Chris (Ramstead) fighting for flight position; Ringo and Francis in an eternal match; David and Dennis avoiding bottom spot; Warren Lam demonstrated the use of martial arts on the squash court in a cunning yet effective way - needless to say he rose quickly in the team roster!; Bruce and Eugene continued to improve and held their positions firmly.

The team dedication paid off for us when, at the final tournament, we came close to defeating Crescent. Congrats to all team members for their successes. There are many people to thank for our season: Mr. Bedard for providing competition and guidance; Mr. Rush and his team for their support and encouragement. Finally, thanks to Norm Fountain and his staff for the fine condition they kept this well-used facility in.

A fine tradition of squash has been built up at SAC over many years. To reward this interest and to encourage future players, three additional glass backed courts have been built. This was the first year that we were able to use the courts for the entire season and it allows much more flexibility and access for all players of the college. At the start of the season we were all hopeful that once again St. Andrew's would put together a strong team. Stationary bike training began under the direction of Mr. Kinney and the availability of courts allowed us to work on both court skills and stroke technique. Unfortunately, injury and illness weakened our line-up at the season's end. Tariq had badly injured his ankle, Shiraz suffered from back trouble and Jamie Douglas was unable to play due to illness. This meant that all players had to compete two positions above their season ranking. Ashley courageously played at #1, Stuart Smith #2, Richard Ting #3 (MVP), Shiraz Mottiar #4, and Sacha Propper #5. On the day of the Championship Tournament, which was held on our six courts, I saw each member of the team play at or above his best level of season play. At the 2nd team level Mr. Robinson and Mr. Rush were very impressed with the efforts of many, but none more than Mark Maby and Bart Sommerville. On the 1st team we are sadly saying goodbye to many talented athletes: Tariq Khan, Ashley Newall, Jamie Douglas, Shiraz Mottiar and Sacha Propper. We wish these boys the best of luck at the University level of play.

As usual, Fencing tryouts began with a very large contingent of hopefuls, and, as usual, quite a few found the demands of this sport were more than they could take. Nevertheless 21 boys stayed to make up one of the largest teams in many years. We were hard-pressed to find equipment for everyone.

Our schedule remained the same; four tournaments hosted by the four larger schools (none of them Independent schools!) with S.A.C. once again accorded as hosts of the final/Championship tournament. However, while the number of tournaments remained the same, the number of participants grew considerably, possibly setting the stage for an increase in the number of meets for next year in this growing sport.

Our first team of Carl Li, Kevin Chang and Marcus Gillam showed not only great form, always finishing near the top, but also provided excellent leadership to the newer fencers. We failed to repeat as champions but this in no way reflects badly on our team but rather indicates a generally higher level of fencing throughout the league. In fact, Carl Li, in addition to being named MVP of the SAC 1st team, was named to the All-Star team.

The finish of one successful season leaves us anxious to start the next although this next will not be without its obstacles. In addition to losing certain senior fencers, the coach, Mr. Hemmings, is going to England on a one-year exchange program. The boys will be called on to assume a great deal of responsibility. It is planned that they will attend practices in Markham once a week to improve their skills.

After 1st Rifles' third place finish in Ontario last year, we had reason to be optimistic about improving our standing this year. We had an almost veteran team. However, luck was not on our side. The Provincial Finals occurred during our March break and our team morale dropped because we thought there would be few team members able to attend. In the Ontario semi-finals, our Second team placed eighth, while our First team placed third; an auspicious beginning. However because of the date of the final, most of the Second team was unable to attend, and key members of the First team were outside the country. Nevertheless we did throw together a mixed team that took us to a fifth place finish overall in Ontario. Most notable at the Provincial Final was Simon Hall's performance. Initially he was in a three way tie for third in Ontario. But, after a recount that looked at the highest aggregate scores, he had to settle for fourth place, thus missing the opportunity to go to the Canadian Championships. Hopefully, our rookies will be able to return the teams to our former standing next year.

This year the SAC trophy awarded to the individual with the highest single target score of the year, was won by Allan Best with a 98%. The Crowe Trophy was not in competition this year. Our First team MVP was Scott Martin; the MIP was Allan Best. Our Second team MVP was Lee Gooding; the Second team MIP was Julian Hall.

Thanks to Mr. Myrans for taking the time to make the teams possible and I hope future teams continually appreciate his dedication. Thanks also to Justin Lindquist (manager) who made the whole year go so much smoother. Best of luck in 1992! Don't settle for second Best!

With the inauguration of the new pool on September 29th, the Swim Team eagerly looked forward to the start of the season. The return of the nucleus of last year's team, together with the addition of some new swimmers, provided an auspicious beginning to our season. To add to our existing power from Hong Kong came new boy Willard Sing, who had, together with our captain Michael Hung, recently competed at the Beijing Games.

Our first three meets were all home fixtures and we were not only proud of our new sports complex, now the finest of the ISAA schools, but also anxious to test out the new electronic timing system.

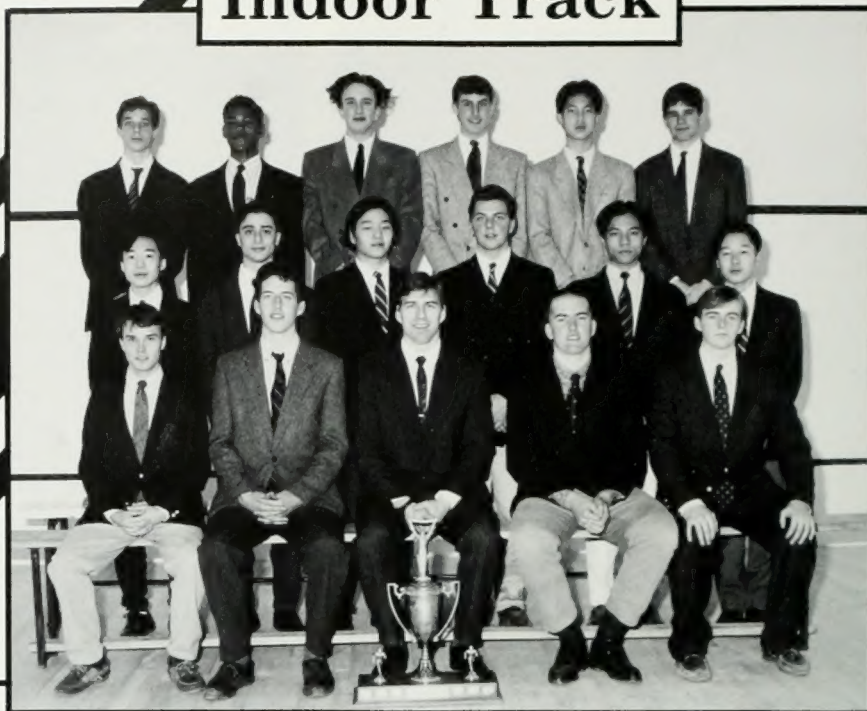

The highlight of the 1991 season for all swimmers was the honour of SAC being the host of the 50th Annual ISAA Championship Meet as well as the 7th Annual Second Team Tournament. Traditionally these events have been held at a "neutral pool", because no ISAA school had an adequate facility to cope with a final meet of this size. The calibre of competition in the ISAA League has increased greatly in the past years. This statement is easily borne out by checking the top three final scores of the Meet. First Team results: UCC 57 points, TCS 56 points, SAC 54 points. The results of the Second Team scores also reflect close competition. UCC 90 points, TCS 59 points, SAC 54 points.

On the Second Team, The MIP award went to David Dunlap and the MVP award to Mike Kingston. Mike set two individual records, one in 100m freestyle and also in 100m backstroke.

The First Team MIP was awarded to Jackie Yeung and the MVP to Willard Sing who holds three ISAA records, in the 200m Freestyle, the 400m freestyle and as a member of the 4 X 50m freestyle team.

The Winter Indoor Track and Field team proved to be a highly successful one. Team members participated in five indoor meets with Paul Lau going undefeated in the midget boys high jump competition. Practices were held three days a week at 7:00 a.m. There were two workouts on technique and skill development in the gym and one pool workout per week in the new complex. In addition, one practice was held at York University per week with meets usually falling on the Friday of every week. Thanks to each team member for his dedication and enthusiastic spirit. Practices in the early morning were hard but also a lot of fun.

Curling is one of the premier Canadian winter games, one at which Canadians have excelled at internationally. It is a life-long sport which links those of us at SAC to our Scottish heritage. All the more lamentable, therefore, that there has not been any Curling at SAC since the boys slung their rocks under the watchful eye of the late Lloyd MacPherson.

It was with some temerity then that I, a complete novice, decided to reinstate this distinguished game. We have weathered our first season and I have no regrets. Twelve students responded to the call for volunteers, only one of whom had ever spent time in a curling rink before. Most of our activity took place in the Junior program of the Bradford Curling Club where we joined 35 other students from other area high schools on Wednesday afternoons to make up a ten team league.

By the end of the season all of us were becoming comfortable with the relative merits of takeouts and draws, and were no longer mystified by references to buttons, hacks, burned stones and shot rocks. The one student who made the most significant slide forward was probably William Tam who helped his team win the league championship.

My thanks to all who supported the team this year, especially those at the Bradford Curling Club including Ms. Julie Lamb of our Bursar's Office who sponsored our entry in the final bonspiel of the season. At this event our one experienced curler, Nick Collingwood from Newfoundland, came into his own, and received high praise from one of Canada's finest curlers and former world champion, Ed Werenich, known affectionately as "The Wrench". To Nick went the MVP. We didn't elect a captain at the start of the season, however, Scott Davidson and Brock Whalley came into this position as the season progressed. We shall miss their contributions next year, but I have a feeling that curling is back to SAC to stay.

MacPherson Tournament

What a great hockey game! This statement sums up the feelings of many Andreans who saw Friday night's game against Markham. The game was full of excitement - the score bounced back and forth between the two teams throughout the game. First, it was 2-0 for SAC, then it was 2-2. The scores kept rising. With under ten minutes left, with the score 4-4, Manabu Mimaki scored his terrific goal. Then, with just three seconds of play left, the Markham team managed to score a goal. The teams were tied once again.

Since 1985, SAC has never lost or tied. Although we didn't win, I think that this one was one of the best hockey games that I've seen in several years. Without the skilled goal-tending of Jeff Metcalfe, I'm sure the outcome would have been much worse. Boosted by a terrific cheer rally, and led by the Naked Man and Red Tornado, the Saints fans chanted and cheered. We sang songs such as "When the Saints Come Marching In" and we cried out taunts: "It's all right, it's okay, you're gonna work for us someday"; and we had fun. What would a SAC hockey game be without our traditional chant of "It's all your fault" to the opponents' goalie?

The "tattoo" was great. The Pipes and Drums put on a fantastic demonstration. The action on the ice was terrific too, with great check by Manubu, Ian Davidson, Jeff Lessif and captain, Matt Chisholm. Overall, in spite of the fact that we didn't win, the game was exhilarating.

Ski Day

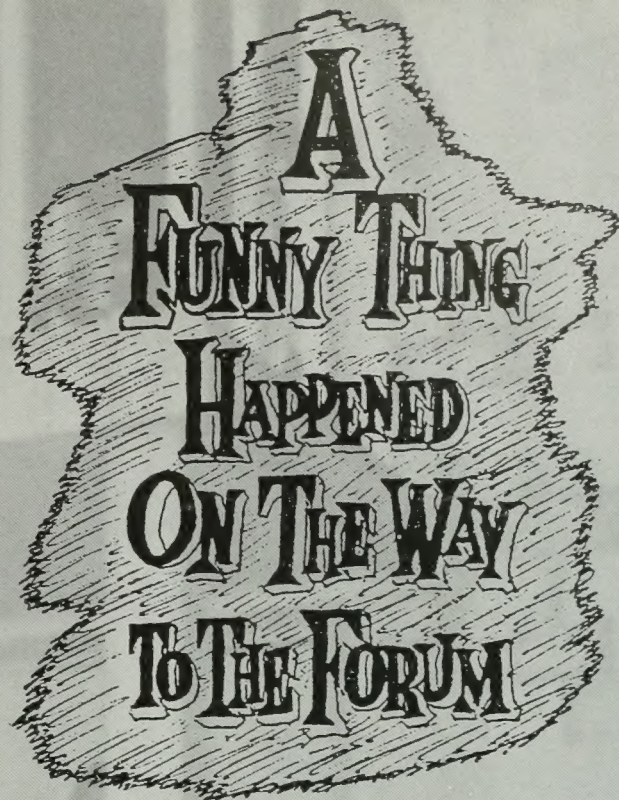

The day started out with heavy snowfall. It was extremely hard to see, which made the skiing all the more exciting. Once the clouds had cleared, all that was left were the powdery runs of Blue Mountain and over 400 SAC skiers ready to take advantage of them. We literally ruled the slopes of the resort that day with 92 years of tradition and excellence hurtling down the runs at breathtaking speeds. Once the day was done, there were no complaints, except for the odd bruise or runny nose. Thanks must go to John Walden for organizing yet another unforgettable ski day.

A funny thing happened to the musical this year - people laughed more than ever before. In fact, they laughed continually throughout the entire show! The show was a tremendous success this year and many have said it was the best musical production yet.

Thanks to the outstanding efforts of John and Lee Clements, we pulled together a polished piece of work that was not only immensely enjoyable for the audience but a riot for everyone who was a part of it. Thanks also to Mrs. Ham and her staff. They pulled through again with imaginative costumes that the script required (even though the shoes did slip a little). Thanks must go to the creative cast members who were constantly thinking of sight-gags and new additions to the story line that made the show as wickedly funny as it was. Finally, thanks to EDE - the guys wouldn't have made it without you. Umph.

Mystics

Dark, forbidding-
Holding mysterious powers
Beyond our imagination like
Charges of electricity excreted
From the heavens above,
Secretive loners
Wander the lands like flitting
Ghosts.

David Dunlap (Grade Eight)

Motorcycles

The engines roared at the starting gates
As if the motorcycles were angry,
Exploding out like cheetahs bursting
After prey.
Hitting the mound they became Mechanical kangaroos jumping and Bounding in the air-
Soaring, gliding, menacing birds.

Sparkling icicles.
Crisp, clean, everything is silent.

Atlantic Storm

The day started out Beautiful.
The sun sparkled on the water
Making it look like a million
Diamonds

The cruiser cut the waves like a
Razor-sharp knife cutting
Through soft warm butter
THEN IT CAME!

Fast as a cheetah
The dark clouds covered the ship
Making it look like it was cloaked
In the darkness of night.

The waves tossed the ship like a cat
Playing with its dead prey.
The boom and crash of the thunder echoed
Like a burst of fireworks

White lightning pierced the ship
Like a cat's deadly fangs pierced
A mouse.

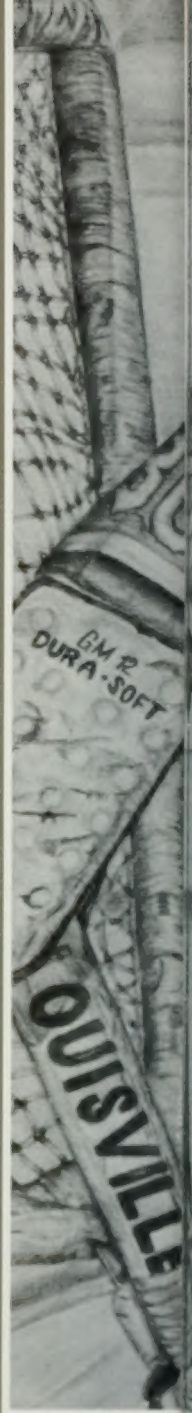

The waves devoured the ship like a
Starving man gulping down
The last piece of food
On Earth.

The Goalie

Like a warrior on a battlefield
The goalie stands.
Padded with leather and plastic
Armour he moves
Like a bolt of lightning.
Darting from side to side
He defends as though his life
Depends upon it.
The Trojans barrel down the ice and Fire the hurtling disk-
He saves, one more time.

Dad

Standing at the platform
I don't know how to say good-bye
Stubborn pride forces back my love;
But confusion keeps me from leaving

When I reflect
On all the cold arenas and fishing trips,
My heart overflows with admiration and gratitude.
But my wounds still bleed of painful words and fighting ways
That make my journey seem inevitable

Perhaps I'm too young, maybe too naive,
But I have to go.

The Cadet

What will happen
Soldier boy,
When they issue the guns
Tomorrow?
Will you laugh and show your friends;
A proud and dangerous wolf
Baring his edged fangs?
Smile as wide as an ocean
Of black,
When you march by Mom and Dad
On Inspection Day
What will you do
Soldier Boy,
When the game becomes
Terrifying reality?
When they take you and put you
In trenches as bleak as
The canyons of hell,
And tell you that this is what You've been trained for.
What will you do when dying time comes?
When it's kill or be killed?
What will happen when you
Come face-to-face with Him?
When His icy fingers reach for you,
Will you be taken?
Death plays no favourites.
What will you do then
Soldier Boy?

Promises, Promises

Everything I buy these days
Comes with a warranty,
That lists the parts they will replace
Within a year for free.

For experience has taught,
That what is covered never breaks
And parts that do - are not.

LADIES GUILD ESSAY WINNER

The subject of this year's Ladies Guild Essay was one strip of the daily cartoon BC, by Johnny Hart.

* * *

Two Neanderthals, battering each other with the bottom rungs of the proverbial Ladder of Evolution. "A-Ha", we chuckle to ourselves, neglecting to realize the full meaning of the artist's depiction, neglecting to feel how close to the actual truth of the matter this cartoon is. The ladder reaches skyward, to better things perhaps, and the humans in their humanoid way, ignore its eventual goal; they are prepared to kill each other to prevent one other from reaching it. Evolution, as Charles Darwin aptly put it, is the survival of the fittest, and humans are, at the moment, resting on the summit of that Pyramid of Life, the pyramid of the species, daring any and all to try to take their place. If no species comes to supplant that at the top of this pyramid, inevitably the species enjoying the glories of that summit will be turned to struggle with itself, perhaps destroying itself in the process.

Those two cavemen, attempting to unburden each other of their skulls, could just as well be two corporate executives of the twentieth century, squeezing the assets out of one another with the tenacity of starving pythons. The human race has barely progressed at all since the early times of our reign as King (or Queen) of the animals. "But think of the technology!" some might say, mortified at this grim prospect. Ah yes, the technology to kill, the technology to save lives, the technology to enable us to live in complete stagnation for all of our lives. This technology is progress, but the people who make it are still the same. Humans are said to be one of the only animals on Earth that aren't ruled by instinct, and yet those base feelings of love, of hurt, and of that fight to stay alive still remain.

For a species to evolve, it must struggle against something, whether another species or an environmental change. For an example of this, I would like to look at those equally regal rulers of Earth's other realm, the sharks. Having a brother who is avidly in love with these beauties of the sea has enabled me to watch countless documentaries on the subject, and the opportunity that the school has given me to actually be in the water with sharks has impressed upon me the actual splendour of them. Sharks, like humans, are also at the top of their pyramid of life, and have had no need to evolve to protect themselves against usurpers for millions of years. Humans, on the other hand, ascended to their summit in a matter of thousands; not enough time for us to adapt to the position as rulers.

Darwin's theory of the survival of the fittest equipped us with the basic fundamentals of evolution. Humans have no species against which to struggle: if we wish to evolve under present conditions, we must struggle against ourselves. Wars, disease, and death all contribute a helping hand, but I cannot believe that these misfortunes, most of our own doing, will eventually produce a better species. Our instincts are the same, and therefore how can our deepest desires ever change, or our fight to live ever improve? We must be overthrown by some other species in order to truly progress beyond our present means. This is a disturbing premonition, but it is nonetheless true, and we must ask ourselves if it would not be more advantageous to progress under another species, than dwindle into stagnation or destroy ourselves under the conditions which we have made for ourselves today.

Now, as rulers of the species, we must take responsibility for those under us, like kindly old monarchs looking to their subjects' welfare. Nature, in her mocking way, has given us the opportunity to be either interactive rulers, bettering the living conditions of all species, or tyrannical despots, unmercifully taking the lives of those species which are our subordinates, in both thought and deed. We possess larger faculties of intelligence than our counterparts in the sea, the sharks, and we must use those faculties for loftier goals than killing and being killed, or wait for some other species to take our place. If no species does come to supplant that one at the top, inevitably the species enjoying the glories of that summit will be truned to struggle with itself, perhaps destroying itself in the process.

The musty smell of nature was suffocating, yet I caught my breath, not daring to unsettle a sprig. The sweat formed channels down my face, stinging my eyes. I wanted so much to cry out in pain at this torture, but I restrained myself from doing so, convincing myself of the victory I was soon to have; and yet, not so soon. For in all fairness, Mother Earth had handed down to me one last barrier to overcome. Yet with this agony, with such excruciating pain, I did not know how much longer I would last. The little red devils were infesting my body, plucking at my skin with their sharp mandibles. I could feel my skin crawl and the ground move beneath me. They must have thought I was some sort of putrid, rotting nourishment that they could gorge on to satisfy their savage cravings.

Suddenly from behind I heard a sharp break in the foliage. I froze, every hair stood erect, and my face grew palid as an albino. Then came the voice, that dreaded voice, ensued by an appendage firmly outstretched towards me, like a judge handing over a death sentence. How smugly it had declared, "You're it!"

Thanks for Nothing

It is the most serious decision your parents have made for you. You are forced to refer to it endlessly and there is no input from you at all. To some it is a curse that sends the recurring taste of anger to our parents for choosing it. Your name should tell something about you. Today's society has streamlined names and left people with a scarce title.

Your name should be like a title to an encyclopaedia, the front that captivates others to read deep into your self, not the label that you are on your license. Your name should be vivid and alive; nobody wants to carry a soggy cracker with them, you want a candy that rings with a deep sensational flavour. Names tell of our culture, heritage, and upbringing. The name of Thurston is a paunch, well-financed name while Relic (sic) is a more rustic and derelict name. Names tell much about ourselves and our parents. Names such as Moondance, Peace, and Moonbaby relive the 60's era; thoughts of ripped jeans and Woodstock are ignited. Names are so meaningful, why make them so small and limited?

Today's society has succeeded in shortening and deadening today's names. Who is to say we should have only one middle name? People no longer use their middle names, it rarely even makes an initial. This family connection to grandparents and relatives should be more dominant. Middle names can tell us about history and give family names and given names a new perspective.

People don't want a title, they want a deep and meaningful message that has a bearing on who you are.

Society should bring back fruitful and vivid names.

OBEAH

The parking lot was full of young boys who had come for the regular Friday evening basketball game. The gathering was made up of all types; long-haired rascals, the regular West Indian congregation, white boys who believed they were black, even the neighbourhood pushers were in attendance. A half-hearted game of basketball went on while the majority of the group just smoked and argued, hastling any half-decent woman whose misfortune it was to pass by. This was the part of town that parents warned their children to detour around, the part of town old people avoided like the plague.

The past month had been the worst in terms of crime and in ite of round-the-clock patrols, the police force had become the butt of cruel jokes. This month was to be no different.

Dennis Benn, a skinny, innocuous Haitian immigrant, had lived in New York for over fifteen years and still managed to get by on the profits he made from his tiny grocery as well as the money he made selling his own over-proof Haitian rum. It came as no surprise to him then, when three overdressed, scraggly white youths entered the grocery five minutes before close down. He was by now accustomed to a constant stream of youths in and out of the grocery looking for alcohol which they couldn't get at the legal liquor store.

"No luck today boys," Dennis called out in an accent that had not changed much even after a decade in the U.S.

"I'm afraid we're all out, check back Monday evening," he tried to call over the noise of the construction crew which blasted through the open door. The last youth through the door shut it slowly and drew an ancient shotgun from the depths of a coat that looked like it had been made for somebody like an ox. Dennis did not move an inch, he was not going to be intimidated by these hooligans.

The first youth had miraculously produced what seemed to be a piece of lead pipe that had been filled with cement and started taking apart the grocery, while the shotgun-bearer stood guard at the door.

"Come on nigger, stop me!" shrieked the first boy. It was obvious to Dennis from the glazed look in his eyes and his appearance that he was on something. Some drug had control of his brain and was holding onto him like a viper holds on to its still-warm victim. Dennis took a step into the open, exposing his entire body to the pipes of the now frenzied attackers and was struck a glancing blow which opened a gash above his right eye. None of the youths, intent on demolishing the store, noticed his hand reach out to grab the black pouch whose permanent residence was a place of honour above the weathered cabinet. Dennis lay slumped but concious against the back wall observing everything with a cold, restrained fury.

When the youths left Benn was still awake and clutching his precious pouch to his chest, and his now blood-red shirt. He burned inside, he wanted to strike back, to hurt the people who had done this to him. However, he couldn't, even if he had the courage he didn't have the strength in his now blood-drained body. He could wait.

The three youths stepped out into the brilliant sunshine, weapons discarded and their hearts still pounding from the rush of adrenalin. Their bodies were aware of every little thing that happened around them, their senses working overtime. They merged with the crowd of New Yorkers all on their way home from work. Not one of them heard the shouts of the workers eight stories up before the falling beam struck not five feet to the left of them. Nearly a quarter ton of steel seemed to quiver on end before it fell parallel to the pavement. The boys could do nothing more than stare in a sort of horror, spending their last few moments on the Earth rooted to the ground unable to move legs and arms which minutes before had done such damage.

Dennis did not even hear the wails and cries outside but imagined the scene in his mind's eye. A wry, fleeting grin crossed his lips and he felt the anger leave his body, like an exorcised spirit. He held the small pouch to his lips and kissed it twice. In the dark of the evening he could barely read the almost-faded letters printed on it, "HAITIAN OBEAH - Riddance For Spirits And Devils."

Framed Faces

Faded faces in the mirror
Dancing eyes, filled with fear
Dustless figures are staring
Each one looks alone

Unknown people glare
Moans and groans our clouded souls
Like the dagger of belief Dream on.

Names and shames in their faces
Tales of lives and their places
Now gone (under with them)
Goodbye.

Just a face in a frame I will be.

SPRING TERM

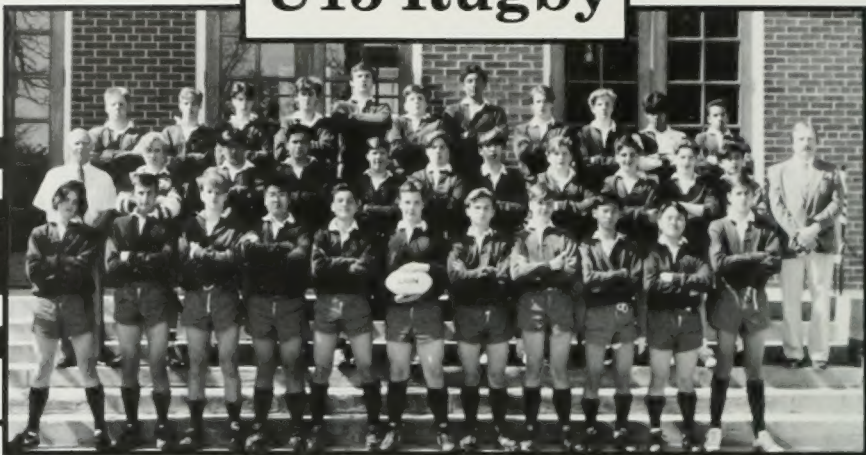

A full-page photograph of a white marble statue of a standing figure, possibly a personification of Spring, with arms raised. The statue is set against a background of tall, dark evergreen trees. The statue is positioned in the center of the frame, with its base resting on a pile of dark, irregular stones. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day, and the overall mood is serene and natural.

The cold and unfriendly April weather failed to dampen the eagerness of the more than forty ready-to-learn enthusiasts who turned up at the start of the season and who, with only a few exceptions, remained with the squad to the end. An early diet of runs and of varied ball-handling activities soon produced greatly improved stamina. From the learners' point of view it became evident that training sessions can also provide enjoyment! The advantage of having so many keen players allowed us to put together two complete sides who could practice the skills and tactical moves of attack and defence. There was tremendous enthusiasm and great competition for team places as we moved into the short season of inter-school matches.

The score board tells that story. Strong forward play, plenty of attacking running by the backs and a vigorous defence at all times led to some well-deserved victories, not the least of these being at the expense of Ridley and Trinity. Three outstanding games were those against Oakville-Traflagar, Appleby and Brentwood, where we failed to take advantage of the scoring chances which we created. All squad members played on "the" team during the season. Morale was always high, and great team spirit produced a high standard of entertaining rugby. Our team captain, Sean Etherington, set a fine example of hard running and of sportsmanship in every game. He deserved the MVP award. Players and coaches alike will agree that we had a great season.

The Under 17 squad this year was a mixture of seasoned veterans from last year's Under 17 and Under 15 teams, and players new to the game. Several players were promoted to the varsity squad, but this still left a strong nucleus. During April the team played several exhibition matches and headed into league play in May quite confident about the season. After a good first outing against Ridley, fortunes suffered in our next match against Appleby when cooler heads did not prevail and two players were ejected. Against TCS we were very much below par due to injuries and suspensions but played very well in a losing cause. The season ended on a high note with back-to-back victories against UCC and Crescent.

The coaches very much enjoyed working with the team this year. The players worked quite hard and developed good skills. Some will be ready to jump to the varsity team next year.

GS/GS

ISAA Record:
Holy Trinity	18 - 0
Ridley	16 - 3
Appleby	24 - 0
TCS	0 - 12
UCC	7 - 9
Crescent	46 - 0

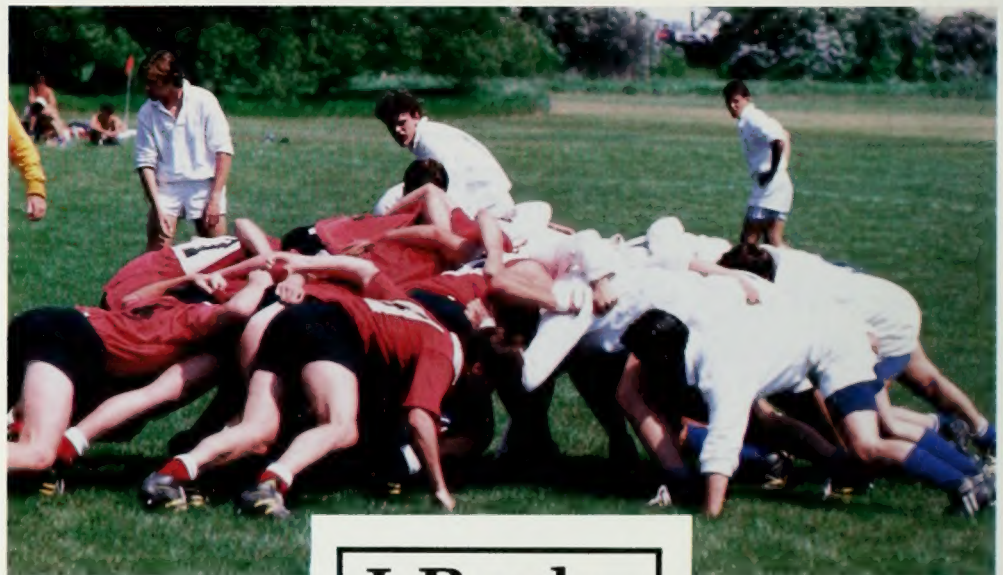

The 1991 rugby team realized it is no easy task being defending champions. That such a young team did so well is a credit to its leadership, dedication and discipline.

Six players were honoured as ISAA All Stars against Ontario U19's. This was the most of any school; they were Ali Khonsari, Matt Chisholm, Rory Manning, Nick Rose, Tarek Khan and Jeff Metcalfe. Those were obviously the cornerstones of the team: players of skill and experience who gave of themselves selflessly. Other key contributions came from Richard Vaughan, Brian Spence and Sean McGrath.

We had 4-2 records in both April (Exhibition) and May (ISAA). We started well in both (4-0 and 3-0, respectively), but inconsistencies due mainly to inexperience and injury (Jeff and Tarek were out for several games each) caused the records to slip. The TCS game was very hard-fought, and was the key game of the season - a rivalry that will continue next year. Our best games were at A. Y. Jackson (Ottawa) and Appleby, where our control and discipline were most evident.

Mr. Harper and I congratulate Ali Khonsari (MVP) and Sean McGrath (MIP), and thank Tarek Khan for his quiet, determined and effective leadership of a cooperative and fit young team.

The 1st Cricket Team celebrated one of their best seasons in decades with an ISAA Co-championship. St. Andrew's defeated Appleby, Ridley and TCS before losing narrowly to UCC by 13 runs. Much of the credit must go to the captain Jamie Douglas who is a fluent batsman and talented bowler in several styles. In addition David Kim batted effectively and averaged over 50 runs per game. Sacha Proper gained the best bowler award for his accurate swing bowling. Our most improved player this year was Mark Etherington.

This year's team had a great deal of fun. John Herde and Andrew Harrison did a splendid job of managing the clothing and equipment side of the game. Many thanks to coaches Robinson and Josselyn.

We had a short but interesting season. In league play we won one and lost two, and considering our experience, we did very well. However, we are the U14 six-a-side champions. With the help of SAC Old Boy, Govan Permanand, we learned a lot and had a fun and challenging season. The most improved player award this year went to Glen McKellan who improved greatly. The most valuable player was Martin Landry. Thanks to team members and coaches.

It was a memorable season for Second Cricket. The conditions were ideal and practices went on as scheduled. Each day the team worked consistently to become fine young cricket players. We were undefeated this year; the most memorable game was against UCC and was a very close game. UCC needed 9 runs to win and we had 2 batsmen not out. These victories must be credited to a few outstanding and dedicated players. First, the three bowlers: Chris Ramson, a veteran on the team, took 6 wickets for the season, Richard Frazer who bowled superbly throughout the season took an average of 4 wickets per game, Andre Aleong alias "Friar Tuck" with his pace ball was able to take a record of 6 wickets against TCS. Also the splendid wicket-keeping by the team Captain Sam Chee proved valuable along with the brilliant batting and fielding by Jamie Watts (MIP) and Joshua Ginou (MVP). Congratulations and special thanks to the team and to Mr. Robinson and Mr. Josselyn for their efforts in coaching the team.

The 1991 edition of the St. Andrew's College Track and Field Team was a young, dedicated, determined and enthusiastic group of individuals. The team was looking to defend its 1990 ISAA championship and team members practiced hard in the mornings, afternoons and evenings at the school and at York University. At the first meet, the York Region Indoor Championships, SAC finished 3rd overall in combined boys and girls point total behind powerful York Region Track Schools. The team was very satisfied with its performance here as many members gained some valuable experience.

The next big meet was the ISAA championship. Team spirit was high and the team was well prepared from hurdlers to polevaulters, to relay team members. Once the meet got underway all competed to their potential and many set personal bests in their events. The result gained SAC 412 points and their second consecutive ISAA championship. Our next nearest competitor was 212 points behind us. Well done SAC! The outdoor team continued competing into May and was riding a high wave of enthusiasm after the ISAA meet. We sent 8 competitors to the OFSAA regional meet with 2 of those qualifying for the OFSAA championship. David Michael finished 13th in the OFSAA 1500 meters and Paul Lau finished 5th in the Midget boys high jump competition. Congratulations to these two individuals for their outstanding performances.

Thanks to all those that came out and helped SAC to win its second consecutive ISAA championship. Team and school spirit was high and it was a lot of fun to be a part of this outstanding team. It was very satisfying to see many individuals better themselves in their individual events. Congratulations to all team members. See you next year.

This year's badminton team represents St. Andrew's first season playing the sport at the ISAA level. As a result, the season was one in which talent had to be first identified and then developed; the main activity was learning. This fact, however, did not stop many of our players from putting in fine performances. Several key matches against schools with well established badminton programs in which our Andreans sent ahead runners to warn of next year's threat were particularly excellent. Eugene Ka, Arnold Lee, and Clement Sin are all young, talented players whose names come immediately to mind. I would like to thank the team for their commitment to the sport and the school. In particular I would like to honour Arnold Lee as MVP and Hilton Leung as MIP for the senior team and Kevin Lauzon as MVP and William Lee as MIP for the Under 16 team.

There was a lot of talent on the Junior teams, so much so that, I would often play some of these boys in a higher age group. Three of them were good enough to earn a spot on the U15 team, and one of them even played a match at the U16 level. I was disappointed therefore, when at the tournament, the team failed to advance past the preliminary round. The U15 on the other hand, played well enough to advance to the semifinal, but lost by a margin of 3-2 to Crescent, and finished in third place out of 10 teams. The U15's, despite some excellent play by the top two singles and first doubles, did not have enough depth to advance either.

Front Row: J. Kee, B. Woo (MVP), S.W. Hui (MIP), M. Willmot. Back Row: R. Bedard Esq, N. Collingwood, M. Nourse, D. Zobebelein. Absent: R. Chan.

We had 5 tennis teams this year. Mr. Bedard coached the 2 Senior teams, and Mr. Paolini the 3 Junior ones. We did not have a very good start: April was one of the wettest months on record. The focal point of the season was the ISAA tournament at the end of the season. The senior squad defeated Crescent, TCS and Appleby, before losing to a formidable UCC septet. Of note, the performance of Raymond Chan, undefeated at #2 singles, of MIP See-Wai Hui at #3 and, capping an unprecedented 6 year career at the #1 singles position on the first team, Ben Woo. Ben is one of the best tennis players in the province.

It will be quite a challenge for our Second Senior Team to duplicate this year's version of SAC's Firsts. It will be up to the likes of Chris Willmot and Nick Collingwood to support our sole returning singles player, Raymond Chan. The MIP award on the Second Team went to Ken Magee. I would like to thank the members of both Senior Teams for the exemplary way in which they represented St. Andrew's; this gentlemanly group won many 'brownie points' wherever they performed.

The St. Andrew's Golf team was made up of Craig Matheson (4th year), Ken Innami (3rd year), Jeff Lessif (3rd year), and Darren McNair (1st year). Our fifth man was Rob Asquith.

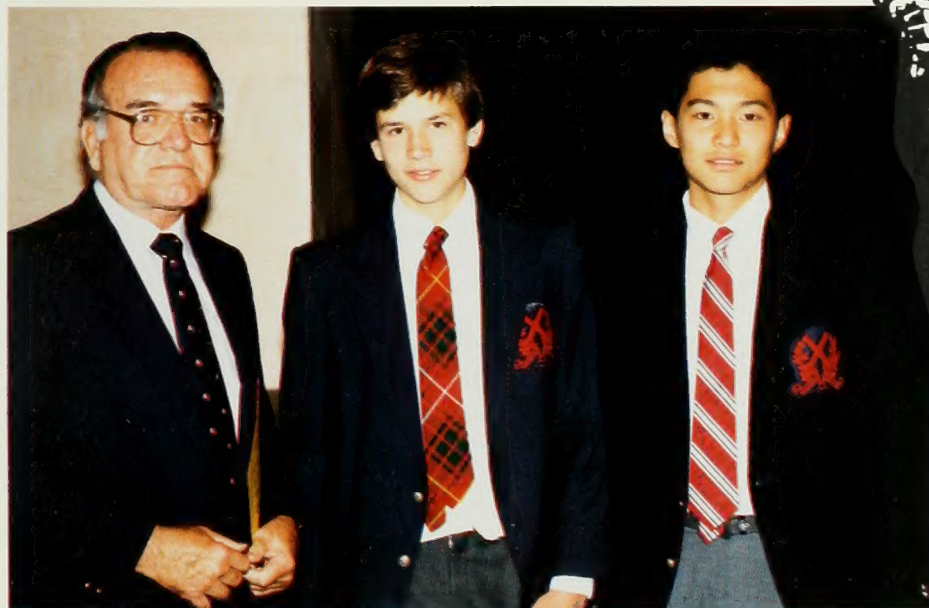

We lost our first tournament in four years when Upper Canada defeated us by one stroke at the Lakefield Invitational. It took a chip in from off the green on the last hole. Darren McNair was medalist with a 75. The team recovered to win the ISAA Golf Championship the very next week. It was our fourth championship in a row. Craig Matheson was medalist in the championship with a score of 79. The next week we played in the Albert College Invitational Tournament. It turned out to be Craig Matheson's day. Playing like a pro, Craig shot a four underpar 68. I am sure this is an all-time low score by a St. Andrew's student. We won the tournament by eight strokes.

Next year we could have three golfers back: Matheson, Lessif, and McNair. I hope they all return!

Lacrosse

Front Row: B. Micalizzi, D. Andrews, G. Pennal, J. Neubauer, A. Smith, G. Brennagh, R. Keto, B. Barajas, S. Pepper, S. Rees, F. Cowell Esq. Second Row: I. Solloa (Mgr), M. DeAngelis, S. Smith, P. Wardell, J. McIntosh, D. Montgomery, A. Demosthenous, V. Lin, T. Siddiqui, C. Stein, R. Osborne, R. Lawlor Absent: J. Menlove, C. Byrnes, K. Taylor

Lacrosse continued to gather interest and show strength in what amounted to be a building year for this team. A large turn out of hopefuls worked enthusiastically to develop the skills and stamina necessary to compete in this demanding sport. Practices were long and challenging as the team worked to hone ball handling skills and increase speed and endurance during what proved to be a very hot and grueling season. Although the team did not bring home the championship, good team spirit prevailed and all players improved their skills immensely.

In particular, Darcy Montgomery showed great improvement and was awarded the MIP award while Kevin Taylor and Scott Pepper proved to be outstanding in regular play so as to jointly receive the MVP award. Thanks to all team members for a great effort during the season. You were a fun team to work with and should be very competitive next year.
F.H. Cowell

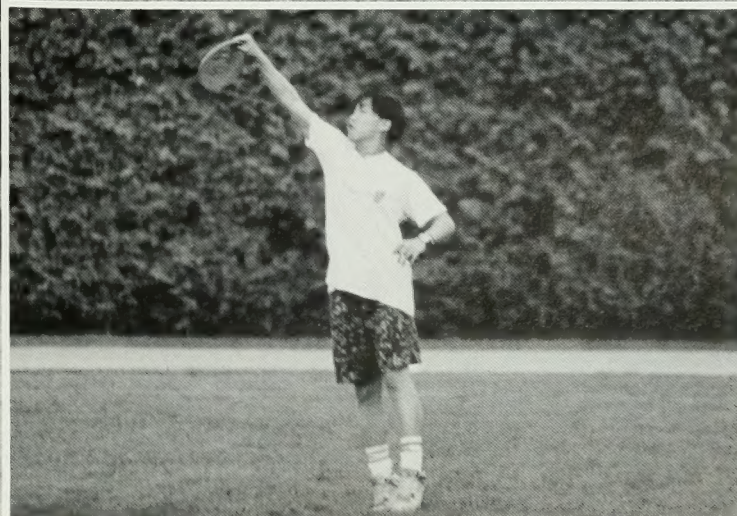

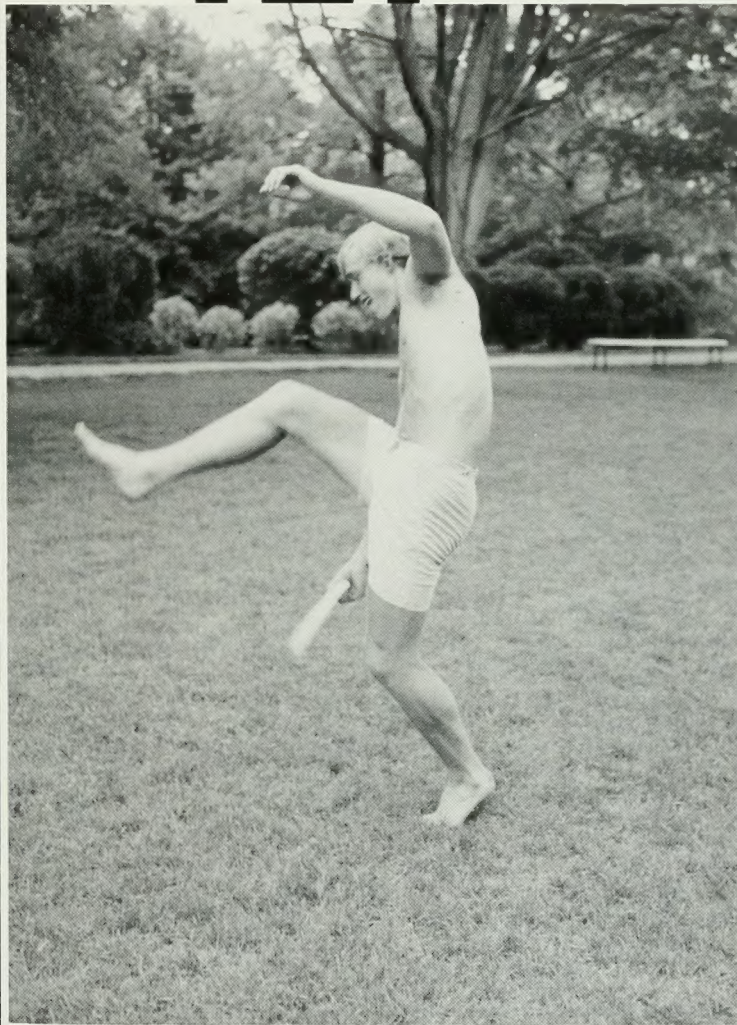

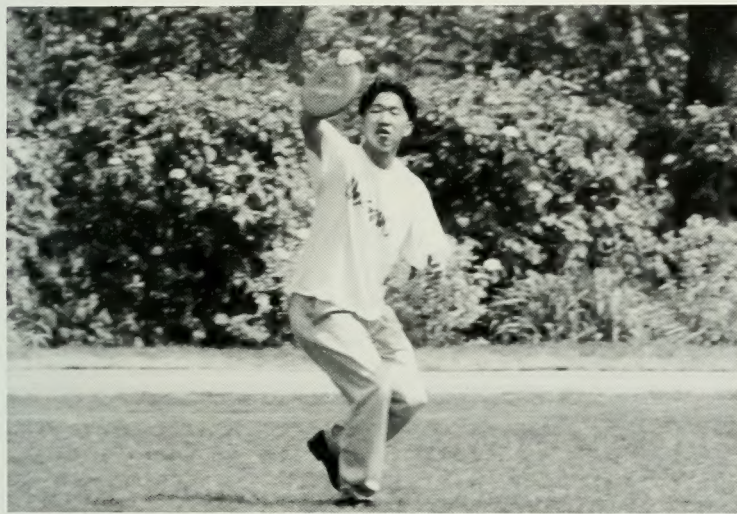

As far as athletics was concerned, St. Andrew's College was very complete. Our teams ranged from the common Canadian pastime of hockey to the rare but equally as challenging sport of fencing. Until this year we thought we had it all. It took the observations of a brand new teacher to prove us wrong. Mr. Perrier started the first official Frisbee Club of SAC. This daring move might have been questioned on paper but it only took two eyes to see that the kids loved it. Every afternoon after classes the fine-looking Andreans took off their shirts and got out their multi-coloured frisbees. We played with our hearts: diving, running, catching and throwing. However, we won nothing and lost nothing, but we all had a good time. Finally the SAC athletic department is complete.

Frisbee

Headmaster's Prize Day Address

Chief Justice, Mr. Chairman, Members of the Board of Governors, colleagues, parents, students and friends of the school:

Even though this particular 'rite of spring' is seemingly focused upon the graduating class, perhaps those who really merit the highest accolades are the parents. Many sacrifices have been made: you have parted with your son if he is a boarder; you may have deprived yourself financially; most likely, you have done an extraordinary amount of driving; and, certainly, you have fretted and worried. I only have to relive the graduation ceremony of my last son to thrill at the sense of release from years of anxiety and fiscal servitude.

Congratulations and thanks are in order to the Faculty who are currently launching upon unsuspecting universities a horde of young men who came to us as virtual barbaric little nippers, who remained such for a seemingly unendurable span of years, but who, through some last minute and glorious change, are suddenly young men of whom we can all be proud.

At this time, I would like to express my gratitude to the Board of Governors and its committees who work silently in the background. Without their loyalty, sound judgement and global understanding of the issues of this school which they all love, this event would be a shallow exercise, indeed. Peter Harris has been the Chairman of this Board for the past 12 years, and his generous giving of time and wise counsel have been invaluable to me and to all.

Assisting the Board and managing the 55 members of our support staff, Howard Tetlock administers the finances of this institution and oversees its structural upkeep in a most skilful manner, and, incidentally, not without considerable wit.

Jim Herder, our Director of Development, continues to unite the school community far beyond the confines of this beautiful setting. He is the pillar of the Old Boys' Association, ably headed by John Housser, and the liaison with our extended family. We count heavily on his mammoth endeavours and successes.

A special thanks to Mary Worry and the mothers of the Ladies' Guild for their generous efforts, which, this year, included scholarship grants, improvements in the foyer of the Great Hall, and the planning and creation of the new and attractive SAC store located below the dining room.

Our students, some 600 local senior citizens, and many of our parents and friends were treated to a banner year in Dramatics. A total of 9 plays, including 3 full-length productions, evidenced a wealth of talent under the superb direction of William Scoular, Lee Clements and John Clements. During Focus, the recent Art Festival, many performances were noteworthy: may I underline the demanding roles of Scott Armstrong, Scott Mahaffey and Brock Whalley. In the same context, the art pieces displayed by, among others, Mr. Paolini, Alex Boothby and Mark Glazer, confirmed the presence of true artistry within the confines of the college.

55 boys participated in 19 separate debating events across the country this year. Our debaters secured prizes at each of the 3 Independent schools' Fulford Debates as well as top honours in the regional bilingual category. An encouraging development was the emergence of a group of strong novice debaters who are currently being mentored by seniors. If technique, discipline and intelligence parallel enthusiasm, a brilliant future is in store.

Much time and space have been devoted to our computer networking. By September, we will have fulfilled our promise of having computer capability in every room, including the boys' rooms and the masters' residences. Moreover, with the addition of a modem, each student, when at home, will have access to an ever-growing wealth of information.

While on the subject of technology, this past autumn, a video of the school was produced. It is titled "A day at St. Andrew's". I trust that most of you have had an opportunity to view this sensitive and honest portrayal of one day in the life of the school.

Once again, we had our fair share of success on the sports fields. Two major championships and a tie for first place were earned at the First Team level. We were outright ISAA champions in both Basketball and Track and Field, and shared the top echelon in Cricket, a position that had eluded us for some 13 years. Perhaps it would be appropriate to mention the outstanding performances of Carlos Del Pino in basketball, of Paul Lau, David and Ian Michael in Track, and of Jamie Douglas in cricket.

At this point, I should like to commend the large number of boys who gave their 'heart and soul' on the playing fields, the arenas, the courts, the tracks, the hills, the parade grounds and in the gymnasium and in the swimming pool.

With two exceptions, the changes in personnel anticipated for next September, can be considered In-House.

After a 35 year career in teaching, the last 18 of which were spent at St. Andrew's, Mr. Robert Jones is taking a well-earned retirement. Bob's versatility was of value to the Music, Physical Education and Social Science departments. But it was his involvement in community service that placed him in a special category: Bob introduced many of our students to volunteer work within the community. We shall miss his kindness and his enthusiasm, and we wish him a healthy and productive retirement. Mr. Cliff Ilton is presently polishing his golf game and his fishing skills, having terminated a 30 year career at St. Andrew's in March of this year. We pay homage to Cliff and to his wife, Ivy, for attempting to keep all things mechanical in good repair, and this includes our unpredictable steam heating system and the miles of piping that criss-cross our campus.

Mr. Peter Robinson, Housemaster of Sifton House these past 4 years, will continue to ply us with his expertise and humour in the classroom and on the playing fields, but he is relinquishing this most important position to Mr. Steve Kimmerer. May I publicly thank Mr. Robinson, and may I thank him in the name of the boys of Sifton House who truly loved their mentor.

man, the cowardly lion and the scarecrow all set off to find the Wizard who will give them the solution to all their problems, and change them into what they want to be. When they finally reach the Wizard after many trials and tribulations, they discover that he's just a little bald man with a wrinkled face and problems of his own. But they also discover that the very search for him, the quest, has affected the sought-after changes in them. Insofar as Dorothy and her friends receive their heart's desire- the tinman a heart, the lion courage, the scarecrow a brain and Dorothy a way to get home - it's essentially a do-it-yourself operation. They had the answers within themselves all the time. The message is that the most important thing is to have faith in ourselves.

I hope that you, the graduating class of 1991, will carry with you a belief in yourselves that will go on to make an imprint on your world, even as St. Andrew's has made its imprint on you. If that is so, you will bring new lustre to St. Andrew's name, even as St. Andrew's adds its old lustre to you.

June 7, 1991

Bowing to the demands of the school yearbook, the Bulletin Board, the Pipe Band, and the many other innovations he has fostered in computer networking, Mr. Steve Treasure is retiring as Housemaster of Ramsey House. To Mr. Treasure, a heartfelt thank you, and a warm welcome to Mr. Stuart Swan who will replace him.

We welcome in our midst this afternoon, Miriam Shropshire, who was the school secretary for 9 years. This is the first opportunity that I have had to thank Miriam publicly for her devoted service to the school.

So goes the grade 13 class, so goes the year, and you were a great class. So now to you the subject and object of this auspicious occasion, the graduates of the Class of 1991. I assume, naturally, that all of you have developed that important skill obtainable only through the school regime, the ability to sleep with your eyes open. But for just a few moments, I ask that you not practice what you have learned so well.

I resort to Shakespeare here because I want to talk about the kind of truths that he best conveys. A theme that runs through Shakespeare's plays, from As You Like It to King Lear, is of people being lost in a strange place, and after confusion, contradiction and error, finding their real selves. In other words, those who search and work diligently and honestly, will find themselves.

The man who finds himself does not sit around all day polishing his medals and admiring his own reflection in the mirror, but he is someone in search of the truth, who has to take risks, make mistakes and, above all, work hard - there are no short cuts. While others stay at home in search of happiness looking for easy answers and surrendering to the desire to win the approval of society, the hero diligently follows the task set him by life, and in so doing, grows into the fullness of his being.

Prize Day Valedictory

Last summer as I pondered my upcoming role as Head Prefect of St. Andrew's College, one of the things I thought about was the Prize Day Valedictory. After sitting through three Prize Days myself in various degrees of consciousness, I noticed that one of the themes each year was tradition. Now, tradition is a fine thing, but all schools have tradition so it does not set us apart from other schools.

What makes St. Andrew's so special? What has it given us, the graduates, so that we can continue moving forward into the future better prepared than anyone else? The school gives us two things: the opportunity to participate in group dynamics and individualism. Now, these two might sound like a contradiction of terms but as Kierkegaard said, "The individual means nothing as such, but he is everything as a link in the chain".

There are many groups here, and while some are less dynamic than others, when we do shine, we shine very brightly. One need only look at the Carol Service, Cadet Corps, our ISAA championship teams, the cast and crews of "Romeo & Juliet" and "A funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum", and the Choir. As successful as these groups are, the success can be directly attributed to the strong personalities which make up the group.

I ask the students to look at today's graduating class - you may never see some of them again. It's hard to imagine life without George Basu's backside or Jeff Metcalfe's hairline. Today, for the first time, we form the Class of '91, a very dynamic group. For me, St. Andrew's has been, to paraphrase the immortal Grateful Dead, a long strange trip. Luckily, the successes have outweighed the disappointments and I leave here feeling happy and fulfilled with a bagful of experience and a confidence I couldn't have developed anywhere else.

ODDS & ENDS

Debating

Debating admittedly attracts a certain type of student: reflective, fiery, and determined- ready to stand and be counted on whatever the issue. This fact very likely explains the success of the program during the past year. It was certainly a crucial time; Rupert Ray had been granted a sabbatical year from debating for one year after labouring for fifteen. However, he was graciously available for consultation, judging of house debates and driving our competitors to the Provincial Tournament- not to mention his continuing involvement as a Director of the Canadian Student Debating Federation, and as a member of the Board of Governors of the Ontario Student Debating Union. Quite a sabbatical!

It quickly became clear however, that the inertia built up over previous years would achieve much. With James Morgan as president, John Morrissey alongside to assist in preparation for the Fulfords and stalwarts like Ian Michael, and Paul Arhanic, to break in new recruits, there was the necessary esprit de corps. When the dust had settled at the end of May about 60 boys had participated in 18 different events at home and as far afield as Victoria. A crop of novice debaters, about 10, had been initiated into the sacred mysteries of actual debate- even with females as the occasion required. The invitationals with BSS and CDS were great successes.

Naturally, the Fulfords were of central importance. Outstanding work was done by Scott Mahaffey - 2nd place senior division at UTS in April, Ryan Lawlor - 4th place junior division at Branksome in February and Leo Arhanic - 4th place junior division at TCS in September. Much solid experience was gained especially by Leo Arhanic who competed in all three events, twice as a junior and once in the senior division. Jonathan Hood, a first time competitor, rendered signal service in rounds two and three.

In the special events category there were notables as well. Allan Best, Ian Michael, and Elyot Waller, attended the Independent Schools' International Public Speaking Contest in Victoria in October. They did well in debate but better in billet! Their hostess was so impressed with their rhetorical prowess and gentlemanly deportment that she despatched boxes of giant homemade chocolate cookies to Aurora to assuage the pain of a return to the Gulag! Or there was the passionate Heron, who, deep in debate with Bishop Strachan's finest ladies, launched his keys at the adversary and so garnered the Morgan prize for the most violent debater.

For the second year in a row, Allan Best, ably assisted by Elyot Waller, jawed his way to the top in the Regional Bilingual Tournament. Best and Ryan McNally went on to represent SAC at the Provincials in Hamilton.

The talents and commitment of many faithful members have enabled St. Andrew's to remain a formidable influence in debating circles. Many thanks are owing this year to those who, like Messrs. Ray, Morrissey and Morgan, have quietly lent their unflagging support to this activity.

This has been the most successful year to date for our choir. We have learned over three times the amount of music we were ever capable of before. The music we learned was more complicated and more musically rewarding than any we have previously attempted. A true landmark was passed when we were asked to take part in a performance of the Vivaldi Gloria in a benefit concert for Amnesty International at Toronto's St. James Cathedral. Such a demanding piece of traditional choral repertoire would clearly have been out of reach in previous years. This year, however, we did it! Three factors contributed to this success. Firstly, we had a solid core of singers return from last year's choir. This provided us with a sound basis upon which to build. Secondly, we inherited some very strong talent in our crop of new boys. This augmented our talent. Thirdly, the Ladies Guild very kindly provided us with a KORG M1 programmable sequencer keyboard which; a) could be programmed to accompany all of our pieces at any speed and in any key, and b) could be programmed to play and/or support the vocal lines in as many parts as is needed, either singly or in ensemble. In its generosity our Ladies Guild has helped to bring choir training at St. Andrew's into the 21st century! Since the 1930's St. Andrew's has included the development of treble choirs in its programme. In the 1950's and 1960's the choir achieved noteworthy success by winning twelve consecutive First Place awards at the famed Toronto Kiwanis Music Festival. The tradition of excellence continues. This year our trebles won the Lion's Music Festival with a distinguished mark of 84! The adjudicator praised the choir for its, "...lovely, freely produced tone, good diction, well contrasted dynamics, and good balance of parts." A more fitting testimonial is not possible.

Clubs

A varied and exciting club program proved that St. Andrew's provides something for everybody. From rocketry and model building; stock broking to board games, students enjoyed the various challenges during the Thursday afternoon period. Certainly 'clubs' this year offered a welcome diversification from a busy academic day and a respite from a demanding sports practice schedule. In a casual, enjoyable way students shared and engaged in interesting activities and managed to learn new skills while having a fun time doing it. The club program should continue to flourish in future years.

Special Guests

An array of special performances brought colour and delight to the College this year. Thanks to the organizational efforts of Mr. Halstead, visiting guests entertained and broadened the horizons of students in many ways. One highlight was undoubtedly the troupe who dazzled its audience with the rhythms and flavour of authentic Spanish flamenco dancing. In other performances students participated on stage to make science come alive in a fun-filled demonstration and listened intently to the powerful and entertaining lecture by entrepreneur Bob Proctor. A visiting group of talented actors brought the stage to life with a challenging theatrical twist and the auditorium rocked to the percussive variations of drum beats from around the world. All in all, visiting guests were a most successful feature of school this year.

During the course of the past year, several Andreans, now studying at University, commented to the Chaplain that they appreciated the experience of chapel - in retrospect. When they had helped the old fellow up off the floor and eased him back into his chair, they explained that it wasn't religion as such that was the issue; it was the chance to think about personal or ethical matters for a few minutes now and again in a busy schedule. The meditations, prayers, and comments offered by the officiants were only the outer form. Inner experience was the key; this involved wrestling with a whole range of questions about life, what it means, and how to live it effectively. All this was music to the Chaplain's ears. He hastily observed that were it not for the musical sensibilities of Messrs. Clements and Foy, the discerning choice of meditations by the Headmaster, Messrs. Ray, and Somerville, the loyalty of the Chapel Boy Team, the venture of extending support to four children at Dr. Graham's Homes in India, and the colourfulness of imported speakers, the whole operation would lack angst. "Moreover", he concluded, "we're going to do it all over again next year, with feeling."

CLAN AWARDS

UPPER SCHOOL

Particularly gratifying to me as Coordinator of the Clans was the large number of students who chose this year to take part in the process of applying for and receiving clan colours. Public recognition takes place on two occasions during the year: at St. Andrew's Day Banquet (Nov 30), and at a morning assembly near the end of the school year.

Clans compete head to head in: the cross-country run, the one-act play festival, and in the intramural track and field meet.

There are three areas in which points can be gained toward the winning of the Housser Trophy: academics, extracurricular activities exclusive of sports, and Andrean sports teams. Point totals are computed on a per capita basis so that the size of the house has little bearing on the outcome. First in competition for the Housser Trophy was: Ramsey with 5348 points. The trophy was presented by Mr. John Housser, President of the S.A.C. Association, to Chris Mitchele and Brock Whalley on behalf of their clan mates. This was a happy way for Mr. Treasure to complete his tenure as Housemaster of Ramsey House.

In second place with 5172 points came Leslie Clan of New House. In third place with 4796 points came MacPherson clan of Flavelle House incidentally last year's winners.

The Robertson Laidlaw Trophy presented annually to the boy who in the last two years of his career earns the greatest number of points for his clan was presented to Scott Mahaffy of Buchanan Clan or Memorial House. He was followed closely in the standings by Rob Hobbs, Shiraz Mottiar and Jeff Metcalfe, all of whom received their bar to first class colours for totals over 350 points.

My thanks for all who took part at any level and contributed by their loyalty and good sportsmanship.

LOWER SCHOOL

Thanks to Mr. Hanson and Mr. Whitehead who do the most to foster spirit and friendly competition between the clans in the lower school.

This year's winner of the Rupert J. Ray Trophy for the top clan in MacDonald House went to Bruce clan and its leaders, Kevin Wong and Michael Benton. The Hockin Trophy is competed for by the five clans in Lower School. This year Robertson Clan and its leaders, Jed Dadson and Rob Luxemburger of Laidlaw House, won this trophy with 1784 points. Second was Douglas with 1649 points followed by Bruce with 1379 points.

Seeing your school year turned into a book is like seeing your oxen turned into bouillon cubes! Flip back through these pages. It is all there; the marvellous accomplishments of such a small body of extraordinarily talented students. How could so few accomplish so much? This book is the triumphant celebration of yet another year followed in the tradition of the St. Andrew's experience. The cavalcade of the school year unfolds through these pages. We feel this year's Review captures, in essence, what it was to be here, at St. Andrew's during the 1991 school year and is a glowing tribute to all our students, faculty and staff.

The Review is also a tribute to the skills and unflagging labour of a few gifted individuals. I am extremely grateful to the expertise and toil that editor Ali Nazer and assistant editor Geoff White contributed in order that this book could be published. Only the inner circle of those who have been involved in publishing would ever believe the almost herculean efforts that have been involved in this exacting and demanding process. Through it all Geoff and Ali worked as a team to see it through. Sometimes I felt that the relationship of me, as advisor, was to my student editors, as knife is to throat. I apologise for any pretense. In all respects, this was truly a magnificent student production and to our editors: my heartfelt thanks for a super job!

Finally, Confucius said, "a picture is worth a thousand words". This year-book speaks volumes. I would be remiss if I didn't thank Jay Yoo and his crew of avid photographers who saw to it that a pictorial legacy would be ours. I am grateful too for those others mentioned on these pages who worked behind the scenes to contribute to the final production of this year's Review.

S.R. Treasure
Staff Advisor

It is now July 24th and we are on the verge of finishing this year's review. It has been quite a wearisome task! The yearbook staff wasn't even given a proper room until three months into the year, and by then we already had an enormous amount of work to make up. In the end everyone will look at this book and have their own personal opinions. All I will see are my hours spent on this book during the winter, spring, and summer of my graduating year.

At the start of the year I knew very little about how to do a yearbook page much less an entire yearbook. Through mistakes, reading and the guiding hand of our Josten's advisor, Mr. Sweet, I taught myself. So did my co-editor Geoff White, who was also in the dark before this year. This is a rare yearbook since it was entirely student done. Even though Geoff and I could have thrown in the towel a long time ago, we didn't. It seemed the yearbook always came first no matter how much time we did or did not have. I sincerely hope that when you flip through this year's book you will recognize all the work and effort that Geoff and I poured into it.

If you look on the board that lists the review editors, under 1991 you will see my name. However, there is a name missing from there and that is Geoffrey White. At the beginning of this year, Geoff and I were handed the responsibility of heading the yearbook staff. Instead we became the yearbook staff. Editor's disappeared like foreign cars from a bad neighbourhood. I must thank those who did help though; it was much appreciated and will be remembered. So therefore to Speedy, Richard, Scott and James for help with layouts; also to Mike Worry and Cyril Yee for help with sports and ads respectively; John Kee, Mark Umphrey and Jamie Inglis also get an honorable mention. The biggest thank you however must go to Jay Yoo, our one man photography staff. And of course the final thanks goes to Mr. Treasure, our staff advisor.

With the completion of this article starts my abbreviated summer vacation, a perfect end to what might seem like worst year of my life. I hope I can look back in a few years and see this yearbook as a triumph and not just toil and hardship. This edition of the review is dedicated to all who doubted me even though they didn't know me, in particular those pseudo-friends of mine that wrongly accused me of sabotaging the yearbook (I know who you are). Je me souviens!

A black and white photograph showing the back of a person's head. They are wearing a white baseball cap with the words "GREEK 91" printed in a dark, serif font on the back. Dark hair is visible below the cap. A pair of sunglasses is perched on the back of the cap, with the temples visible. The background is out of focus, showing some foliage.
